Civilian "Troops" Ready For Action In French Capital

Doumergue Cabinet Expected To Hand In Resignation To-morrow; Mobile Guards and Police Brought Into City; Army Prepared For Trouble

LAVAL MAY BE NEW PREMIER

Paris, Nov. 7.—Civilian "shock troops" were preparing to-day for clashes over the wreckage of the "political truce" cabinet of Premier Gaston Doumergue.

Both leftist and rightist organizations ordered their men to be ready to act. Each side expects the other to precipitate demonstrations like those in February which brought what M. Doumergue often called a close approach to civil war.

The cabinet is functioning until to-morrow, when Premier Doumergue, elderly former President who took over the government during the crisis of last February, is expected to present his resignation to President Lebrun.

TROOPS STAND BY

All available mobile guards and gendarmes were brought into the city. Troops in the Paris region were held in their barracks, ready to act. Large forces of police were massed about the Chamber of Deputies and the Foreign Office.

Colonel de la Rocque, leader of 300,000 war veterans banded together in the Croix de Feu (Cross of Fire) organization, gave a "solemn warning" to Parliament that its attitude to-day and to-morrow will "give hope of organized peace or lead first to civil war, then to a foreign war."

IS GRAVELLY ILL IN MONTREAL

MRS. G. LIPSETT-SKINNER

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 7.—Illness of Mrs. Genevieve Lipsett-Skinner, well-known Canadian newspaper woman, has taken a critical turn, her physicians reported at the hospital here to-day, and grave concern is felt for her.

Mrs. Lipsett-Skinner occupied positions with newspapers in Winnipeg, Vancouver and Montreal. She was the first woman ever to be a member of the Parliamentary Press gallery in Ottawa and is a former president of the Montreal Women's Press Club. She has been ill for two years.

Mrs. Lipsett-Skinner is well known in Victoria, having resided here some years ago, during which time she spoke before the Women's Canadian Club and other organizations.

McGEER IN FIELD FOR MAYOR'S POST

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P.P. for Vancouver-Burrard, to-day announced he would be a candidate in the Vancouver mayoralty contest next month. Mr. McGeer recently announced he would seek the Liberal nomination in the constituency of Vancouver-Burrard for the next Dominion general election.

Mayor L. B. Taylor is the only other candidate definitely in the field so far in the mayoralty race.

MISSION'S AIM WAS GOODWILL

Sir Charles Seligman, Back From Japan, Says Purpose Accomplished

"At no time did the members of the mission depart from their original objective—that of goodwill between Great Britain and Japan," said Sir Charles D. Seligman of London, member of the British Economic Mission which recently completed a tour of investigation of conditions in Manchukuo and Japan.

Reaching Victoria this morning from the Orient aboard the Ss. Empress of Canada, Sir Charles was reticent in his remarks about the mission's report. He declined to comment on reports that the mission had advocated a renewal of a British-Japanese alliance.

RECEIVED BY EMPEROR

There were four members of the party, Sir Charles said, each of whom had a private audience with His Imperial Majesty Emperor Hirohito at the Imperial Palace in Tokyo. The mission was headed by Lord Barnby, who traveled aboard the Empress of Canada from Yokohama to Honolulu. After a few days in Hawaii, Lord Barnby proceeded to

NEW SIGNS IN BUSINESS AREA

Police Chief Orders Larger U-turn Placards For Traffic Safety

Installation of the new "U" turn signs at different intersections in the downtown area has been ordered by Chief of Police Thomas Heatley. The new signs are being placed in the campaign for improved driving in Victoria.

This step is expected to prove of assistance to both motorists and pedestrians. Under the new policy motorists will have no excuse for making the infraction of city by-laws. At each intersection there will be four signs, two for "U" turns, which will be placed in such a manner that motorists approaching intersections from any angle can see them.

Any violation will bring immediate prosecution, at the corners at which these signs are to be placed have been specially designated because of lack of space or heavy pedestrian and motor traffic.

The signs will be placed at the following corners: View and Douglas Streets, Port and Douglas, Pandora and Douglas, Yates and Douglas, Johnson and Douglas, Broad and View, Broad and Douglas, Broad and View, Broad and Government and View, Port and Government and View.

Seek New Plan For Pensions

Basis For Amendments to B.C. Superannuation Act to Be Determined

A new plan on which to base changes in the B.C. Superannuation Act, which will be more favorable to both taxpayers and employees than that submitted by S. H. Pipe, Toronto actuary, is being sought by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

Dr. Weir, who will leave for Toronto on Sunday, said this morning he had received an interim report from another firm of actuaries who have been studying the position created by the potential $6,000,000 shortage in the B.C. scheme. This sets out a different basis for rebuilding the fund, and will be discussed by the minister on his visit east.

When the proposals of Mr. Pipe became known here strong objections were registered, especially from a large section of the civil service who feared legislation for next session, Dr. Weir said, in order that the fund can be restored to an actuarially sound foundation on as favorable a basis as possible to all parties concerned.

Plane Is Tested For B.C.-to-Australia Flight In Stages

Capt. C. Ulm Hopes to Ship New Machine From England Saturday

Canadian Press

London, Nov. 7.—Capt. Charles Ulm, Australian airman planning a flight from the British Columbia coast to Australia, figured to-day his specially-engineered plane will have a cruising radius of between 3,300 and 3,800 miles. This is roughly 1,000 miles more than the greatest cruising radius of the entrants in the London-Melbourne race.

Ulm is to fly a special design of the Airspeed Envoy plane, built at Portsmouth, a relative of the ship in which Flight-Lieut. K. O. Stodart and his cousin reached Australia in the air race.

"I have more powerful engines than normally fitted to the Envoy," Ulm said. They consist of two 240-horsepower Armstrong-Siddeley Lynx motors. Extra fuel tanks have been built in.

TESTS FOR MACHINE

Ulm was busy preparing for air regulation acceptance tests to-day, and if all goes well he will ship the machine to Canada on Saturday. Considerable secrecy is shrouding the arrangements so far, Ulm is quoted as saying, however, that his probable route is from Vancouver to San Francisco, then over the Pacific to Honolulu, Fanning Islands, Auckland, New Zealand and Australia. This calls for one more stop than Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith and Capt. P. G. Taylor made on their flight in the reverse direction a few days ago.

Ulm was one of Sir Charles's companions on the first trans-Pacific flight, from California to Australia, six years ago.

ARCHBISHOP IS IN HOSPITAL

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—Although chest injuries suffered by Most Rev. A. U. deFenier, Archbishop of New Westminster, when the car he was driving crashed into a span of the Cambie Street Bridge last Sunday, were more extensive than at first believed, General Hospital authorities to-day reported his condition was "not serious."

At first, it was believed the Archbishop was threatened with pneumonia, but this danger is now thought to be past.

Russia's Nov. 7 Is School Holiday in Blairmore, Alta.

Canadian Press

Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 7.—Blairmore school children were enjoying an unexpected holiday to-day—a holiday it was said was likely to make history.

To-day, November 7, is the seventeenth anniversary of the Russian Revolution. The Blairmore school board, at a special meeting yesterday, decided to mark the event by declaring the day a school holiday. It is believed this is the first instance on the North American continent that such official recognition has been given the Russian Revolution.

Blairmore has a left wing labor town council and school board.

Roosevelt Given Greatest Mandate Ever Voted To A United States President

Magnitude of Democratic Victory in Elections Yesterday Surprised Even Those Who Had Predicted Gains; More Than Two-thirds of Senate Now Democratic; House is For Government by 3 to 1; Foes of New Deal Suffer Worst Defeats.

Forty Governors' Posts to Democrats

Associated Press

New York, Nov. 7.—The New Deal's victory will thrust Democrats back into a great majority of the United States forty-eight governorships to-day, and simultaneously threatened the Republicans with a record low of a bare half dozen executive chairs.

Grasping even for the Republican fortress of Pennsylvania, President Roosevelt's cohorts, on the basis of contests already settled and up-to-the-minute trends in others, hoped to capture the leadership of forty states—two more than they had before Tuesday.

This sweep was not considered marred by California's rejection of Upton Sinclair, former Socialist running as the Democratic nominee, whom national party leaders had carefully withheld support.

Republicans were assured of five states in Kansas, Vermont, New Hampshire, California, and Delaware. They led in efforts to replace Democrats in Michigan, were nip and tuck in New Jersey, and had not abandoned hope of stealing off Albert C. Ritchie's fifth term in ambitions in Maryland though the governor was ahead.

Democrats were bidding with varying success to oust Republicans in Pennsylvania, North Dakota, Oregon and Nevada, while apparently losing Wisconsin to Philip La Follette, Progressive.

IN MINNESOTA

Governor Floyd B. Olson was re-elected in Minnesota for the lone Farmer-Laborite victory. Of the thirty-three governorships decided yesterday, Democrats risked a loss of one to Republicans and one to La Follette. Democrats had leads in four of the eight states where Republicans held sway.

Continuation of present vote drifts would mean forty Democratic governors, six Republicans, one Farmer-Labor and one Progressive. This compared with the pre-election standing of thirty-eight Democrats, nine Republicans and one Farmer-Laborite, and the 1930 line-up of twenty-five Democrats and one Progressive.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

ROOSEVELT IS BACK AT WORK

Associated Press

Hyde Park, N.Y., Nov. 7.—President Roosevelt, happy at the mandate of the people to carry on his New Deal, turned his full attention to-day to public affairs.

The President made no comment on the returns from the general election, but Postmaster-General James A. Farley, who talked to him by telephone from New York City, said he was "overjoyed with the returns."

Mr. Roosevelt will go to Washington by special train to-night, and will be at his desk to-morrow. After retiring early yesterday evening—before final returns were in, but when a very substantial New Deal victory already could be seen—Mr. Roosevelt arose early to-day to analyze the results.

Indications were that there will be no statement from the President to the election, but that he will speak by actions rather than words.

LONGER HOURS FOR DELIVERY

Baking Industry Under Work Hours Act With Special Rule For Drivers

Bakers' delivery men may be employed a maximum of fifty-four hours a week under an order approved by the provincial government yesterday bringing the entire baking industry of the province under the regulations of the Hours of Work Act. This action was taken on recommendation of the Board of Industrial Relations and will take effect on November 23, the same day as the new minimum wage scale for the industry. The minimum is forty cents an hour for adult workers ranging down to twenty-five cents an hour for youths of eighteen years.

Other employees that delivery men will come under the general forty-eight-hour-week clause in the Hours of Work Act. Orders number 16 and 17 of the board, covering minimum wages for the baking and shingle manufacturing industries, will bring about 8,000 workers under the wage laws, making a total of close to 90,000 in the province protected by minimum scales.

People Analyze Election Results

By KEN CLARK

Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York, Nov. 7.—As belated returns from yesterday's congressional elections added to the strength of the Roosevelt New Deal party in the Senate and the House, the United States to-day began to analyze the new situation.

The magnitude of the victory surprised even those who had confidently predicted an increase in President Roosevelt's congressional forces. To-day it was definitely announced more than two-thirds of the Senate would sit on the Democratic side, while the administration strength in the House would be increased by four seats, giving them an advantage of three to one.

An approximation of the total popular vote showed: Democrats 10,225,745; Republicans 7,647,400.

Republican critics of the election lay emphasis on Democratic patronage, public works expenditures and relief as having had a good deal to do with an off-year-victory unprecedented in history, but it is also pointed out Mr. Roosevelt's personal popularity and a general swing toward liberalism were factors in the contest.

IN PENNSYLVANIA

That it was the New Deal that won was pretty well illustrated by the triumph of a machine politician of Democratic stripe, Joseph P. Guffy, over Senator David A. Reed in Pennsylvania, and by the return on a comfortable basis of Arthur Vandenberg to the Senate from Michigan.

Guffy was the administration's choice against its most bitter critic, Vandenberg soft-pedaled his criticism of the New Deal during his campaign, and was one of the few Republicans returned. Felix Hebert, the French-Canadian Senator from Rhode Island, attacked the administration policies and paid the price by losing his seat.

IN WISCONSIN

The move toward the centre-left was further demonstrated by the triumph of the progressive La Follette in Wisconsin. Senator Robert M. La Follette and his brother Philip, but now Mr. Roosevelt has a two-thirds majority in both houses. He has also to handle a huge and strongly diverse crew of Democrats, ranging in color all the way from scarlet to dark blue. Mr. Roosevelt has a mandate to proceed such as never before given a President of the United States.

To-day the United States asked itself: What is Mr. Roosevelt going to do now that he has the country in the hollow of his hand?

VOTE AGAINST "EPIC" MOUNTS

Latest Returns Show Steady Gains in California For Republicans

Associated Press

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—The lead for the victorious Frank H. Merriam, Republican, grew consistently to-day in the increasing returns from the balloting on yesterday's California governorship fight.

The Republican victory apparently carried right down the line, as far as state offices were concerned. The only direct consolation for the Democrats seemed to be in the Congressional returns. A net gain of one Democratic representative appeared in prospect.

Republican George J. Hatfield's margin for the lieutenant-governorship continued to grow against the total piled up for Sheridan Downey, EPIC Democrat, proportionately with Merriam's lead over Upton Sinclair, "End Poverty" candidate for the governorship.

BOND ISSUE VOTED

Merriam's $24,000,000 relief bond issue went over by a wide margin. A $80,000,000 bond issue to assist California war veterans in financing homes and farms also carried. California's liquor law was liberalized to permit the sale of hard liquor in hotels, restaurants and clubs. A local option proposal, opposed as being a prohibition measure in disguise, was snuffed out.

Coal Strikers At Nanaimo Seek Aid

Permission Sought to Canvass City For Relief of Cumberland Miners; Increase Offered Haulage Hands Through Unauthorized Committee

Special to The Times

Nanaimo, Nov. 7.—Headed by an organizer of the Miners' Union of Canada, a delegation of twenty striking miners arrived in Nanaimo this morning to canvass Nanaimo residents for relief to help the strikers. The strikers called at the police station and interviewed Mayor J. Barby for permission to canvass the town.

A member of the delegation stated Col. C. W. Villiers offered the haulage hands eight cents a day increase to bring the wage to $4.30, the same rate as the Nanaimo haulage hands. It appears there are two factions and the committee not appointed by the majority of the strikers interviewed Col. Villiers, who offered an eight cent increase.

The strikers ignored the offer of the increase owing to the fact that the offer was made to an unauthorized committee. A meeting is being held in the Elbow Hall here to-day. The delegation in the strike bulletin, says the unofficial committee is trying to impose a sell-out policy on the Cumberland miners.

The strikers are holding meetings at Cumberland daily, but there were no further developments. It was stated over the long-distance phone from Cumberland to-day.

The maintenance men and office staff are being paid up to November 30, after which date the mines will become completely idle. Reports of a lockout are incorrect, states Col. C. W. Villiers, manager of the Canadian Collieries.

B.C. SUPPORTS GOLD TAX MOVE

Efforts of Eastern Province to Get Share Watched Here

Proposals of the Ontario and Quebec governments to secure a share of the new federal gold tax are being watched closely by the B.C. authorities.

With this province as the second-ranking gold producer in the Dominion, the taxation department cast eyes in this direction before the last budget was drafted but took no action because the tax might have acted as a drawback to mining development.

When the Dominion Government entered the field this province took the position the tax rightly belonged to the provincial treasury. This it was pointed out, was partially correct because the heavy gold production was confined to a few provinces and the levy therefore became a special tribute upon them.

In discussing taxation matters at the constitutional conference, the B.C. representatives had planned to raise this point.

While the government has taken no action lately in this matter, any success by the eastern provinces in securing a share of the tax will no doubt be followed by an application from British Columbia.

Ontario Has Great Roads Programme

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—A $16,000,000 road construction programme in Ontario, mainly in the northern part, which would increase the number of men employed on road work from 22,000 to 40,000, will go before the cabinet to-day or to-morrow.

Seeking Dominion assistance, the scheme was put before Dominion

Minister of Labor W. A. Gordon to-day by Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Lands and Forests of Ontario.

The scheme would afford increased employment of further sections of the Transcanada Highway, connecting links for highway and colonization south and east to Renfrew and west to the boundary line of Manitoba.

T. G. LEE DIES IN CHICAGO

President of Armour and Company Succumbs in Fifty-seventh Year

Associated Press
Chicago, Nov. 7.—Death yesterday ended the career that took T. G. Lee from a stenographer's position to the presidency of Armour and Co. through thirty-nine years of service with the packing concern. Mr. Lee, who was fifty-six, died in the Presbyterian Hospital after four months' illness due to intestinal trouble. He was born on a farm near Carrollton, Ohio, February 13, 1878. In 1898 he entered the employ of Armour and Co. as a stenographer in the beef department, rising to the head of the department in 1908.

A general statement covering the four months' period from July to October shows wheat imports decreased this year by 30,596 quintals, whereas those of maize increased 45,035 quintals.

SEDITION BILL VOTED BY LORDS

Measure Given Second Reading By Upper Chamber in London

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 7.—Without a division the House of Lords yesterday evening gave second reading to the Incitement to Disaffection Bill after Lord Halsbury, government spokesman, had declared there was an organized campaign of misrepresentation against the bill on the grounds it interfered with the right of free speech.

The bill had nothing to do with the law of sedition and did not at all affect the liberty of speech, declared Lord Halsbury. Any statement or writing that was legal now would be legal after passage of the bill. Any statement or writing that was illegal now would remain illegal.

The powers of speech contained in the bill were not really new, said Lord Halsbury. Never had more careful precautions been laid down governing issuance of search warrants. Lord Strabolgi, better known as Commander C. M. Kenworthy, declared on behalf of the Labor opposition that he believed there was a sinister motive behind the bill. He saw in it an object for "beating down a pacifist movement in case of war."

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, supported the bill, declaring it did not affect the liberty of expression of opinions of even the most advanced character.

Lord Allen of Hurtwood, Labor, opposed it, however, as constituting a danger to liberty.

READY TO DEFY IT

Lord Ponsonby, another Labor peer, said that in event of a threat of war he would do his best to defy the provisions of the bill. He was ready to visit the barracks and tell the men not to fight. He said he would not fight. "Nobody should participate in the massacre of tens of thousands of their fellow-citizens," Lord Ponsonby said. "The government was ready to arrest a man who threw anti-war pamphlets over barracks walls, but they would find an excuse not to touch himself, he added."

Lord Halsbury wound up the debate with a reference to Lord Ponsonby's "impassioned declaration of martyrdom." If Lord Ponsonby really intended to incite mutiny, this bill would not be necessary to deal with him, he said. He would be liable to penal servitude for life under the Incitement to Mutiny Act.

WAR CROSSES IN FEDERAL CAPITAL

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Emulating the example set in London by the Prince of Wales in planting an individual cross on the plot of remembrance adjoining Westminster Abbey, a miniature Flanders Field has been constructed in the heart of Ottawa in connection with the annual poppy campaign. A large tower and masonry has been erected, reproducing the ruins of the Cloth Hall at Ypres.

In front of the cross of remembrance small wooden crosses are being stuck in the ground by the public, in personal remembrance of a husband, son or friend who lost his life overseas. The reproduction of Flanders Field was opened yesterday by a mother who had lost her two sons in the war. Lady Perley, Lady Borden and Mrs. R. Brugge, wife of the French consul, were among the first to plant their crosses at the foot of the ruins.

EXPLORATION IN EUROPE POLICIES

Canadian Press from Havas
Prague, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 7.—The League of Nations, instead of being an instrument working for peace, has become an institution attempting to prevent war, Edouard Benes, Czechoslovakian Foreign Minister, told the Chamber of Deputies when it reconvened here yesterday.

In a lengthy summary of the European situation, M. Benes emphasized the League was working along negative lines instead of having a definite positive policy, such as it had in the days of Aristide Briand. Painting a sweeping panorama of Europe, the Foreign Minister sketched the Eastern Locarno project, possibilities for Franco-Italian and Italian-Little Entente (Roumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia) rapprochement and the German-Polish accord of last January.

"These form," said M. Benes, "all the elements of the new constellation which is appearing on the political horizon. Europe is passing through a period of exploration, seeking new frontiers and new forces."

He regarded the situation as extremely grave.

U.S. Town Leads Election Returns

Associated Press
New Ashford, Mass., Nov. 6.—The first town in the United States to report its complete election returns, New Ashford, with thirty-eight registered voters, to-day cast a heavier Democratic vote than it did in 1932.

The town favored the Republican candidate for governor, Gaspar G. Bacon, but gave David I. Walsh, Democrat, seeking re-election to the United States Senate, an edge over his Republican opponent.

Britain to Have No State Lotteries

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 7.—The House of Commons, debating the Betting and Lotteries Bill in committee yesterday evening, rejected an amendment in favor of permitting state lotteries. The vote was 219 to 47.

The bill proposes, among other things, to legalize the tote betting system on greyhound race tracks, and aims to prevent sale in Britain of tickets in the Irish Free State Hospitals Sweepstakes.

Senator W. Bishop Of Washington Dies

Associated Press
Port Townsend, Wash., Nov. 7.—State Senator William Bishop, seventy-three, of Chumacum, widely known as an "old line" Republican statesman and as a farmer who produced some of the finest Holstein cattle in the United States, died here yesterday.

He represented the twenty-fourth legislative district—Mason, Jefferson and Callam counties. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Madeline Bishop, two sons, William and Steven, and a daughter, Kathleen.

Himself a pioneer of this part of the northwest, Senator Bishop was the son of one of the first settlers, William Bishop, an English sailor, who came here when the northwest was first becoming populated by white men and married an Indian girl of the Chumacum tribe.

The senator was born on the ranch on which his father settled. His two sons became ranchers with him.

PROVINCES WANT GOLD TAX SHARE

Montreal, Nov. 7.—Premier L. A. Taschereau endorses the stand taken by Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario regarding the gold mining tax collected by the Dominion government. "Two years ago," Mr. Taschereau said yesterday, "I protested against the imposition of this tax on natural resources of the province without result. I hope Mr. Hepburn will have more success. If Ottawa can tax gold produced by the provinces there is no reason why it should not tax forests, fisheries and so forth."

Premier Hepburn claimed the province is entitled to a share in the tax.

THE NEW DEAL MARCHES ON

THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES
Endorsed the policies of President Roosevelt yesterday in the most remarkable election result which has been recorded in the republic for many generations. A veritable tidal wave of electors swept into both the House of Representatives and the Senate an even greater majority than the administration party had before, the expectation being that when the smoke of battle has arisen the Democrats will have two-thirds of the membership of each of the two branches of Congress. Their already comfortable majority of state governors, of whom there were thirty-eight out of forty-eight, is likely to be increased, while a similar condition exists in the individual state elections from top to bottom. The slaughter of Republican candidates in traditionally rock-ribbed Republican states is one of the outstanding surprises of the election.

The election yesterday was what is known as an "off-year" contest, that is to say, the biennial test which does not fall in the fourth year when the President is elected. In these elections it is customary for the party in office to lose substantially in both the House of Representatives and the Senate, and the Democrats expected a certain loss in the present campaign. But even this precedent has been shattered in an astounding fashion, and the fact stands out in letters which everyone can read that the President is stronger to-day than he was when he was elected two years ago, that his New Deal, after its two years of trial, has the unreserved approval of the large majority of the 130,000,000 people of the republic.

The chief significance of the election result is that notwithstanding such deficiencies as have been disclosed in the operation of the Roosevelt policies, the criticism to which it has been subjected in many quarters, the propaganda which has been poured out from opposing interests, the formidable unemployment which still exists, the electorate—which is the best judge of results since it is the element which bears the brunt of failure, or feels the benefit of success—is satisfied that the New Deal is improving its welfare, that the policies it embodies are putting the country on its feet and making it a better place in which to live.

That verdict can not be challenged or explained away. If the New Deal had been a failure, the electors would have reflected the fact by their votes. Instead, they gave the President a mandate to continue his policies in the interest of the public as a whole, irrespective of their effect upon the relatively small minority interests who envisage the end of the special privileges they have enjoyed so long.

Yesterday's election will have a very definite repercussion in the outside world, in many countries of which there has been an impression that President Roosevelt has bitten off more than he can chew in the way of advanced national policies. This impression has been cultivated by interests in those countries which feared the spread there of the doctrine that the welfare of the many was more important than that of a privileged few and that those who should make sacrifices were those who could best afford to make them. It was cultivated also by radical extremists who hate moderate Liberalism more than they hate ultra-Conservatism. President Roosevelt is not an extremist. He has no more use for Communism than he has for baronial predatory capitalism. Neither, evidently, has the electorate of the United States.

In Canada, the effect of yesterday's election naturally will be more intimate and direct than it will be anywhere else, since imperious and irresistible nature, through geography, has made these two countries interdependent in many ways. The verdict is likely to give a fresh impulse to those in this Dominion who feel that it is in dire need of certain policies similar to many of those embodied in the New Deal, to some of which Hon. H. H. Stevens has been giving emphasis in his recent speeches. The curse of over-capitalization and the inside manipulation of high finance are, for example, crying out for rectification in this country. Liberalism has won a great victory in the United States. Liberalism in Canada must be expressed just as definitely by liberal policies based upon the peculiar requirements and opportunities of this country.

OIL AND MANCHUKUO

THE PUPPET STATE OF MANCHUKUO
The state which Japan carved out of Manchuria, has issued an ultimatum to the rest of the world in respect of oil.

Three months ago, says "Time," the well-known New York weekly, the Son-of-Heaven, cloistered Emperor Hirohito, proclaimed a National Oil Business Law so bold and drastic that at first it was scarcely taken seriously outside Japan. Provisions: 1—foreign oil companies doing business in Japan must build additional storage tanks and keep always on hand a six-months' supply of petroleum in addition to their normal needs; 2—they are subject to quota restrictions on retail sales which thus far have been rigged to favor Japanese oil companies at the foreigners' expense; 3—the government reserves the right "in case of emergency" to purchase all petroleum in Japan at its own price, which may be below cost or purely nominal (i.e. confiscatory); 4—to ensure compliance with the law, foreign firms will be licensed to operate for only one year at a time and must file estimates of the amount of business they expect to do for several years in advance. Once an estimate has been accepted by the government, all petroleum called for therein must be imported "irrespective of business conditions." Thus a huge oil reserve for the Japanese Navy must be piled up and maintained by oilmen of prospective enemy countries at their own expense—unless they prefer to quit doing business in Japan.

Over in Manchukuo, "Time" goes on, the same foreign oil firms are being squeezed, if possible, even harder. The Japanese government owns half the stock of the South Manchuria Railway, which in turn owns forty per cent of something called the Manchuria Oil Company, eighty per cent of whose stock is in Japanese hands. To this firm His Majesty the puppet Emperor of Manchukuo has been graciously pleased to grant a monopoly of petroleum sales within his realm. President of the Oil Monopoly is Mr. Keizaburo Hashimoto, brother-in-law of famed General Takashi ("Happy Sparrow") Hishikari, the Japanese Ambassador to Manchukuo and Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese Army in Manchukuo.

Last week Japanese censors in Manchukuo held up for several days but finally passed news that early next year the Oil Monopoly will: 1—banish from Manchukuo the familiar cans of Standard Oil, Texas Company, Asiatic Petroleum Company, (Anglo-Dutch Shell group), every oil can in future to bear the stamp of the Japanese-controlled monopoly; 2—permit foreign firms to sell petroleum to the Monopoly only after it has purchased the entire produce of the South Manchuria Railway's shale oil plant and the new Dairen refinery.

Obviously this programme will annihilate the millions of dollars' worth of goodwill built up by foreign firms with their brightly colored oil cans which Manchukuan use for everything from cooking utensils to tin plates for their roofs and linings for their coffins. It will also mean that Manchukuan will have to pay the extravagant cost of working Japan's shale oil refineries, always run hitherto at a loss but kept going for strategic reasons.

UPTON SINCLAIR A CASUALTY

WHILE THE MAJORITY OF THE electorate has emphatically decided that it does not want Upton Sinclair for governor with his End-Poverty-in-California policy, the minority which does is an imposing one. In three-fourths of the voting precincts of the state tabulated up to this morning, successful candidate Merriam had 661,396 votes, Sinclair 522,485 and Haigh, Progressive Commonwealth candidate, 149,134.

Obviously, there was no land-slide against the radical aspirant, notwithstanding the extraordinary campaign which was conducted against him. Probably, if the election had been held a month ago, before his opponents had time to organize adequately and apply the power of an unexampled election fund, he would have won. He began to lose ground in large dimensions about three weeks ago, when he was deserted by the leaders of the Democrat party under whose auspices he was running, and when even the President took care to intimate that the race for the governorship of California was merely a domestic matter in which the national Democrat party was not intervening.

In normal times Sinclair would not have got very far, for he would not then have been able to capitalize the discontent of thousands of people with the present social and economic system. As it was, he enlisted the support of the large number who were out of work, which gave him a substantial following with which to start his campaign. His platform embodied some excellent planks, but he took in so much territory in his radical proposals that he frightened almost all of the business and industrial interests of the state, not to speak of many of his employees. He also was confronted with certain passages in some of his books upon which his opponents charged him with atheism and, which, notwithstanding his repudiation of the charge, undoubtedly alienated many church-goers. Sinclair declares he will continue his campaign, but it is a safe prediction that he never will do so as a representative public man, for it is doubtful if he again will be able to command so large a vote as he did yesterday.

CHRISTMAS TOY DISTRIBUTION

THE VICTORIA BOY SCOUTS ARE TO be congratulated for again launching their yearly Christmas campaign for the gathering and distribution of toys among the less fortunate families of this city. Every year the Scouts gather these toys, repair them and then distribute them to the poor and needy. In this they show a fine community spirit, and if it were not for them no doubt many of the poorer children would be without Christmas toys.

It is up to the citizens of Victoria to help the Scouts in their appeal for toys, so that they may make Christmas a little brighter for many kiddies.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

RACKET?
The St. Catharines Standard

Has Ontario developed a divorce racket? It is charged that a small group of lawyers are making a specialty of these cases at exorbitant fees, and divorces are now obtainable on evidence which the committee of the Senate would not listen to. A system of easy divorce is a social evil of the first order.

DOLES
The Bureau of Statistics

There are considerably more than 2,000,000 dolls made in Canada in a year; dolls of all kinds. These charming playthings for Canadian babyhood and girlhood run into real money, without taking account of the imports. The factory prices for those two millions made in Canada aggregate about $812,000.

DEEP WELLS
The Hamilton Herald

An artesian well has been bored in Dakota over 2,000 feet in depth, and a fine flow of water has been obtained from it. The well bored at the instance of Sir Adam Beck in London will be remembered on account of the opposition it aroused. West Chicago has a well 3,061 feet deep. St. Louis has one 3,048½ feet down. At Putnam Heights, Conn., there is one at 6,004 feet. One near Leipzig is 6,735 feet in depth. And still we are told that the earth is full of subterranean fires. The water is cool and fresh and pure from these depths. What's the answer?

Loose Ends

Concerning the preservation of private property—the need of less sense and more nonsense—the three minutes in the White House—and the glory of old leaf mold.

By H. B. W.

PRIVATE PROPERTY

THREE WEEKS THE Vancouver papers carried the annual list of properties which are to be sold for non-payment of taxes shortly. In The Daily Province the list took up five full pages of very small type. I didn't count the list, but it must have run to thousands—thousands of homes lost, thousands of families turned out, thousands of men finally deprived of their last stake in our economic system. The tax sale list probably represents more effort and saving, more sacrifice and despair than any human document of the time. What it represents in bitterness towards a society which confiscates property under the name of taxation no one will ever be able to calculate.

But there is a humorous side of it. The men in charge of society are expected to pay a substantial change in it least private property be destroyed. I wonder if they have looked over the tax sale list. I wonder how much more rapidly private property could be destroyed than in the present fashion. Another ten years of this and there will be no need to worry over private property. There won't be any.

NONSENSE

SEVERAL FELLOWS HAVE said to me lately that sometimes I am inclined to write too seriously. They said they preferred to read something silly. I gathered that when they came home at night and put on their slippers and picked up the paper, they didn't want to think about the economic system or the ills of society, but would rather read about the poor stop-and-go policeman at the corner, Mrs. Noggin's views on the extravagance of the government's rose bushes. They said I shouldn't bother to think deeply, but just toss off some light froth to keep the public amused.

No doubt that is your opinion, too, but alas, poor reader, you expect too much for your money. It takes grinding toil and heavy thought to toss off some light froth. But any fool can write serious and weighty opinions on important things. Most weighty opinions on important things are written by fools who haven't the brains to write nonsense. The world is sadder and sadder under weighty opinions. You are buried under them as in an avalanche. They are hurled at you over the bridge table and at the street corner. They are screeched over the radio and shouted by your very children.

Weighty opinions and solemn thoughts are ever the refuge of stupid minds. Whenever I feel stupid, as this morning, for example, I can invariably fill this space with opinions so weighty that I am sunk under them myself before I have finished the first paragraph. What the world needs is more nonsense, but is not likely to get it.

The solemn fools who hand out weighty opinions because they are not clever enough to be foolish, are the lads who are rewarded and paid the high salaries under our absurd civilization. Those who produce the nonsense are looked like fools.

Actually most of the opinions handed down by the masters of our society, by our statesmen, professors and captains of industry are nonsense of the wildest sort, but the public's sense of humor hasn't been developed to appreciate it. The public insists that the serious nonsense which is far, far harder to produce. Then, in hand, it thanks the statesmen, professors and captains of industry for their brand of nonsense and takes that other better sort as a matter of course, with never a word of appreciation.

It is no wonder that a man in a job like this gets fed up with important things and, in desperation, seeks refuge in weighty and enlightening opinions on the economic system? I sometimes ask myself whether you deserve anything better.

THREE MINUTES

THREE ARE BOMB people, like Mr. Harry Stevens, Mr. Gerry McGee and Mrs. Noggin, who have a perfect genius for getting into the newspaper. Hardly a day passes but they manage to make the headlines in some fashion. On the whole, I should say that Mr. H. G. Wells is the most talented headline hunter of our generation. His latest exploit is to tell off Mr. Herbert Hoover. You may have heard of Mr. Hoover. He held some important office in the United States years and years ago when we were young.

Anyway, Mr. Wells wrote in a recent book that when he visited Mr. Hoover in the White House it seemed up, in a highly nervous state and everybody had the jitters. Now one of Mr. Hoover's secretaries has blasted Mr. Wells sky-high by announcing that he never was in the White House at all. Mr. Hoover wouldn't let him into his home, but only into the executive offices and there only for three minutes.

With only three minutes in the executive offices, therefore, Mr. Wells was able to write a detailed description of the White House, which he never saw and the occupants whom he never met, an accomplishment of which any journalist might be proud. Mr. Wells's three-minute visit to Washington doesn't matter very much, Mr. Hoover having retired to the shadows. But the incident has raised an awful suspicion in my mind. I mean to say, Mr. Wells has lately transported himself twenty years into the future and told in detail how our civilization was destroyed by famine, disease and war before the year 1930. I always believed this implicitly until the Hoover incident arose. Now I am beginning to wonder whether Mr. Wells wasn't in the future only for three minutes as he was in the President's office. My confidence in the destruction of civilization has been badly shaken.

MOLDY

AFTER A DAY in this mad world, what a relief it is to come down to earth. I mean down to earth. The trouble with you and most people is that you never come down to earth, not really; not down to the pure, rich mold which is the ultimate end of all things.

You should see the great pile of mold that we have hidden on the other side of the great rocks where no one can rob it. Five years of oak leaves have gone into it, billions and billions of leaves piled ten feet high until they have sunk down, year after year, and become the pure, unadulterated essence of growth and fertility.

Digging these days, transporting the mold into the more favored spots of the garden, feeding our best shrubs with a diet more kindly than even the Government of British Columbia can afford for its roses—lifting the leaf mold carefully, reverently, so as not to waste a speck of it, we can trace the strata of the various years quite easily.

This black, glorious stuff at the bottom is the leaf crop of 1929. It was made before the crash, the product of prosperity, and the richness of it is beyond belief. If you have any doubt about the precise year of its vintage, you can tell that it was made in 1929 by this object which lies buried deep in the pile—a metal rattle, badly rusted now, but clearly distinguishable as belonging to the little girl from next door. She gave up rattles in 1930.

Thus, like antiquarians digging in ruined cities, we can fit the story of this great leaf pile together, and the story of our local civilization. In this next layer is the china skull of a doll, white now and lacking eyes or hair. She came in 1930 and her name was Meg. The mold is not quite so rich above Meg, but still better than the government's fertilizer. We know we have reached 1931 when we discover the rusty skeleton of a toy umbrella. It arrived at a birthday party next door in 1932 and was left.

Above that the mold is not ready yet for use. The thickly-packed layers of leaves are still distinguishable, far as leaves die hard. We found a little boy's wheelbarrow in the vintage of 1933 and it was still intact. Perhaps some day when we are gone

STOP-AND-GO

To the Editor:—Could you spare a little space in your columns regarding stop-and-go signals. It is a pity we have so many people who lack ordinary intelligence, who regard the stop-and-go signals as a nuisance in our city. The police on point duty display great patience and courtesy under most trying situations, and are to be commended for their vigilance for the safety of the public. I'm for the stop-and-go every time.

COMMON SENSE

Field Apartments, Victoria, November 6.

CENOTAPH SERVICE

To the Editor:—With great regret, most ex-soldiers of British Columbia will learn of the resignation of Archbishop A. U. de Pencier as chairman of Remembrance Day committee in Vancouver. Evidently this was brought about by Mr. Griffen representing Archbishop Duke of the Roman Catholic Church. According to The Province, Mr. Griffen explained that his archbishop wished a strictly non-religious service, and then pointed out that last year's ceremony included the Lord's Prayer, and added: "I am forced to oppose the inclusion of the Lord's Prayer."

The result being that the veterans of Vancouver adopted a resolution, and a letter to the press, has the presumption to endorse this strange procedure and says in part: "It is my view that if there is one day in the year when we ought to exhibit the true Christian spirit or tolerance to each other's religious views it is on November 11."

Shall I question the sincerity of Mr. MacNicol at the simplicity? Any rate he is found eating his own words, for there is no Christian spirit without the Lord's Prayer, and no tolerance, by accepting the intolerance of an unloving few.

Neither do I look upon Mr. MacNicol's views, or the Legion, as fully representing the fallen. The Legion is a club, with apparently a club psychology. The silent majority are the real representatives of the fallen, and if the Legion has the courage to accept the principle of Remembrance Day, which gave it birth, and if after having denied the real meaning of sacrifice it puts itself under the yoke of the commemorative few, then it is false to its origin, and it is time (at any rate in British Columbia) for all ex-soldiers, and the parents of the fallen, to demand the Legion relinquish the affairs of Remembrance Day.

And here is a point I wish to make quite clear. I have spoken to several members of the local branch of the Legion, and they seem at loss as to what the real meaning of remembrance is. Many think it is a word for calling man's mind to remembrance, but in this special service it means the calling of God to mind through our comrades' sacrifice.

Let me in a friendly way warn the Legion that when you put a "club" complexion on such a sacred service as amateur service, you remove its spiritual foundation, weaken spiritual strength and destroy sanctity. Further, I do not shrink from any principle I have advanced, and I say that any church which is opposed to the Lord's Prayer is not a Christian church.

On Saturday I examined the programme of the local branch, and found that they had eliminated the address (sermon), but retained the Lord's Prayer.

End Severe Cough Quickly, At One Fourth the Cost

Mix This At Home In 2
Minutes. No Cooking!

You'll never know how quickly you can conquer a bad cough, in young or old, until you try this famous recipe. You not only make your money go four times as far but you will also have a much better remedy than any you can buy ready-made.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water in a saucepan over low heat for a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. Then put 2½ ounces of Pine (obtained from any druggist) into a 16 oz. bottle. Add your syrup, and you have 16 ounces of medicine that will amaze you by its quick action. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a stubborn cough. For real results, you've never seen its equal. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals inflamed membranes, and relieves chest soreness and difficult breathing. Pine is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, famous as a healing agent for coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you.

Y.M.C.A. Guest Tea Is Again Huge Success

Large Number of Organizations Represented at Annual Function Held This Afternoon; Attractive Tables; Delightful Programme Enjoyed

To the accompaniment of all the hallmarks of the effective organization which has become traditionally associated with the affairs held under these popular auspices, the annual guest tea of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. was held at the institution this afternoon, attracting a large number of guests and lending stimulus to the excellent work which is being accomplished under its aegis.

AUXILIARY PRAISED

Mrs. Donald McLeod, the president of the auxiliary, ably presided and introduced the speaker of the afternoon, W. T. Smith, who spoke in warmest admiration of the work being carried on by the ladies for the Y.M.C.A. The "Y" is filling a big need in these days when so many boys and young men are facing the problem of how best to occupy the leisure time which has been forced on them owing to the economic situation and consequent unemployment.

AT HEAD TABLE

Mr. Straith pointed with pride to the excellent financial position of the Y.M.C.A., which each year had been able to carry its burdens successfully, even during times of financial stress. He attributed much of this to the capable leaders associated with its history, and took occasion to pay tribute to the memory of two former presidents, the late Mark Graham and Dr. M. W. Raynor, who had done much to rescue it from a staggering load of debt and enable it to carry on to-day with a clear conscience.

Big Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson were among the special guests at the head table, which had been charmingly arranged with bronze chrysantheums and sunflower tapers in silver candleholders, the artistic handwork of Mrs. S. J. Willis, Miss Agnew and Mrs. E. W. Mayhew, who were assisted by the following members of the social committee: Mrs. A. S. Lock, Mrs. Walter Tuck, Mrs. L. A. Gane and Mrs. A. H. MacLachlan.

MUSICAL NUMBERS

A delightful musical programme enhanced the pleasure of the afternoon. Mrs. Walter E. Stanland having charge of this feature. Mrs. Charles Goodwin very effectively sang "Carmena" (Lane Wilson), and "A Rainy Night Lullaby" (M. Hamilton); Mrs. W. H. Wilson's delightful voice was heard to advantage in Benedict's "The Gypsy and the Bird," and that charming little song, "Shoes" (Banning), while Pierre Timp won much applause for his singing of "Victory" and "Life and Death" (Colderidge Taylor). Mrs. John Gough and Miss Grace Allan ably shared the role of accompanist.

ATTRACTIVE TABLES

Each long table was beautifully decorated with flowers and delightfully appointed with gleaming silver, gay china and glowing candles, the whole presenting a colorful and animated scene, and representing a triumph of organization on the part of the conveners.

The church organizations, women's societies and service clubs again rallied nobly to the cause. At the First United Church table Mrs. J. B. Munro acted as hostess, and was assisted in pouring by Mrs. Walter Walker, Mrs. Mason, Sands, Mrs. W.

W. McGregor and Mrs. Nelson Hicks. The Metropolitan Church hostess was Mrs. G. A. Richardson, with Mrs. A. N. McKeown, Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Mrs. F. Cusack and Mrs. E. F. Church pouring.

At the P.E.O. table the hostess was Mrs. E. W. White; pourers, Mrs. Walter Leing, Mrs. J. G. Macfarlane, Mrs. Claude Campbell, Mrs. E. S. Farr and Mrs. Alice Robinson. The Women's Canadian Club hostess was Mrs. Harold Campbell, and the ladies pouring tea were Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. A. Carmichael, Mrs. E. C. Manning and Mrs. P. E. Taylor. At the joint Y.M.C.A. and Musical Arts Society table the hostess was Mrs. J. S. Beale, and the pourers Mrs. C. S. Beale, Mrs. Archie Willis, Madame Eva Baird, Mrs. E. J. Robertson, Mrs. T. H. Elliott and Mrs. W. A. Jameson.

SERVICE CLUBS

The Kiwanis table hostess was Mrs. S. J. D. Clark and the pourers Mrs. J. B. Clearhue, Mrs. Harold Diggon, Mrs. A. Bell King and Mrs. Victor King. Rotary table hostess, Mrs. J. Morse, and pourers, Mrs. F. B. Scourch, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Duncan McBride, Mrs. C. French and Mrs. Walter Loney. At the Kinsmen's Club table the hostess was Mrs. Arthur Nickells, Mrs. Bob Shank, Mrs. C. Poyntz and Mrs. H. Sabiston.

Mrs. A. V. Clarke and Mrs. M. Raynor had charge of the collections. Mrs. P. C. McWhinney was at the main door, and Mrs. C. Elwood Watkins and Mrs. A. J. Watson were ushers at the main door. Mrs. R. W. Mayhew and Mrs. Walter Stanland took charge of the guests for the head table.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

LIMITED BUDGET DOESN'T EX-
CISE DRAB MEALS

By MARY E. DAGUE

It is a pity that food economy to the average housekeeper seems to mean drabness. A pity—because the premise is all wrong. True, you may make a little more frequently to make your meals attractive when you have only a little money to spend, but what of that? What have you got a mind for, anyway?

It is the attention to detail that makes food perfect, not the money you spend on it. The food can be as well nourished on stew and pot roasts as on expensive roasts and steaks. And if the stew and pot roasts are nicely done, the consumers will be just as happy, too, as when eating the more expensive ones.

Desserts of ginger breads, spice cakes and eggless steamed puddings are especially good during the cold months and cheap to make. Apples and dried fruits may be used in numerous ways for delicious desserts. Canned fruits, too.

FLANK STEAK IS GOOD VALUE
Rolled flank steak is not dear and furnishes extra-good food value. Plan to serve a rolled flank steak some day when there is baking to do. Cook the meat while you are doing the baking in the morning. Then at dinner time reheat the meat in an hour and bake the extra vegetable or pudding while the meat is finishing. The steak will cook in the heat of the oven and also in its own heat in the morning so an hour at dinner time is enough to thoroughly cook the dish. Sauté the accompanying potatoes and bake the bread. Add apple ring salad and eggless steamed pudding.

ROLLED FLANK STEAK

The steak should be scored by the butcher or you can do it yourself at home.

Make a paste of ¼ teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar and 3 tablespoons vinegar. Spread meat with paste, cover with stuffing, roll, and tie. Dredge with flour, and bake as suggested for two hours in a slow oven.

STEAMED PUDDING
Eggless steamed pudding is one of my best dishes, easy to make and good to eat.

Take three tablespoons shortening, ½ cup molasses, ¼ cup milk, 1 cup pastry flour, 2½ cup graham flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon each cloves, allspice and nutmeg, 1 cup stoned dates cut in small pieces. Melt shortening and add molasses and milk. Mix and sift salt and spices with white flour. Stir in soda which has been dissolved in two tablespoons cold water. Turn into an oiled mold, cover and steam two and one-half hours. Serve warm with liquid sauce and a garnish of whipped cream.

GAY SEASON FOR CELEBRITIES

Mother Seeks to Shield
Woolworth Heir From Liking For Actresses

New York, Nov. 7.—The town has not seen so many celebrities in years—show folk from here, there and Europe; movie people casually flying across the continent to see a few of the new plays; playwrights going around acting like playwrights; ordinary authors flirting with publishers and screen scouts.

Composers predicting imminent new triumphs; skit-writers jotting down gags; lyricists still hunting for something to rhyme with "love"; artists looking happy again (perhaps on account of something they did not eat); playboys playing in the gay spots; society people moving into their town houses; debutantes planning the biggest parties since the days when it was decided that lavish affairs did not look quite right in times of unemployment. Perhaps they have realized that, after all, nobody is more thoroughly unemployed than a debutante.

AT THE BIG OPENING

Take just one theatre opening—"The Great Waltz" at the Rockefeller's tremendous plush palace, which is a house with foyers large enough for inter-set promenading, and with lush lighting fit for strolling in the aisles. There was Ina Claire, Grace Moore, still basking in her new movie fame (basking very prettily, too); Libby Holman, in a pink-and-black something, telling friends she is glad to be coming back to the stage. (It will be a musical comedy, and the contract is signed.)

Julia Sanderson, giggling. Jerome Kern, looking owlish. Lee Shubert, smartest dresser of the producers; Bernard Baruch, seeming not to have a single big financial problem on his mind. Jackie Cooper, solemn and assured. Francine Larrimore, nominally the fiancée of the actress, John D. Rockefeller Jr., applauding the show, of which he owns a slice; June Walker, tickled about the new play in which she will star and which Marc Connelly will direct; George Jessel and Norma Talmadge; Mimi Mayfair, a vision in brown, and George White, Lois Moran and Douglas Montgomery, as handsome a pair as you will find.

EX-CIGARETTE GIRL

Singlaur Lewis, apparently alone and not seeming to care. George S. Kaufman looking glum about something. Lou Holtz and other Special Agents, Broadway and Park Avenue. Rubicund Walter Damrosch; grand old Daniel Frohman; David Warfield; Morris Gest, Ascot and the sideburns; Irene Bordino, who wants to be known as the best-dressed woman in town. Gertrude Vanderbilt; Sidney Howard; Fannie Hurst in a silver gown. And dozens of others. Special inquiry was made about a certain raven-headed vision in red velvet and diamonds, believing she could be no less than a glamorous party girl. She was a former cigarette girl in a night club.

Quite a lot of film folk at the late spots, especially the Central Park Casino, to which incoming stars rush as soon as they have checked their bags and talked to their press agents. Harold Lloyd was there this night, and Claire Windsor and Mary Astor. Lila Lee, now playing on Broadway, was a latecomer. Also Dorothy Mackall, with a man none of us recognized. Saw the Thomas Meighana, and the social Whitney Byrne, who has been working herself to a frazzle in a couple of eastern pictures. There was Anne Gould, too, who for a year has been considered the choicest society catch, any movie company could hook. But the slim, blonde heiress is not having any contracts just yet, thank you.

TALK FOR SOCIETY

There was Jimmie Donahue and the stately Toni Johnson, Park Avenue and Broadway again. And there was a good deal of speculation about the latest adventures of younger-brother Woolworth Donahue, another heir to millions in nickels and dimes. Not so many weeks ago his Marjorie took him to Europe to get away from New York actresses. After a while she brought him back to dodge Broadway. Leigh Taylor, an English beauty, Wendy Barrie, sailed into town the other day and found that Woolworth had been taken to Gandia.

His frank liking for chorus girls and the glamour of show business is likely to be one of society's chief topics this winter; that, and the three-cornered Vanderbilt-Whitney Morgan bout for the guardianship of the ten-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt and her fortune. Interest has not died, either, in the John Jacob Astor match.

Books Appreciated By Aged Inmates

The monthly meeting of the committee was held at the Aged Women's Home Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Mrs. W. L. Clay, the president, occupying the chair, and members present were Mesdames F. W. Vincent, S. Leiser, E. Heddie, H. Grant, D. C. Sabiston, A. D. Whittier and Miss E. O'Brien.

The ordinary routine business of the month was attended to, and all accounts incurred ordered paid. The secretary reported that the Home was filled, and applications were constantly being received. The committee of November will be Mesdames W. L. Clay, convenor, E. Heddie and S. Leiser.

The committee reported on the success of the tea and book shower held on the afternoon of October 24, when a number of friends, both old and new, were welcomed to the home, which was open house for the occasion. A large number of books were brought by the visitors, and will do much to swell away the winter days for the inmates.

Two large cartons of books have since been received from the David Spencer lending library, and twelve books from the B.C. Telephone library. These are most gratefully acknowledged. Donations of apples were received from Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Gould.

Langford

Langford, Nov. 7.—The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Prince Edward Branch No. 91 of the Canadian Legion was well attended, held on Monday, Mrs. A. G. Mackie presiding. Mrs. Henry Pike, secretary, read a letter from Mrs. H. Simpson, explaining the personal service club which sews for the needy. The question of a piano for the clubrooms was discussed. The meeting decided to have the first Langford Scout Troop to parade with the local returned men at the Remembrance Day service in St. Matthew's Church at 11 o'clock on Sunday. The members arranged for poppies to be sold at the local country schools subject to the trustees' permission. Tentative plans were made for a Christmas party for returned soldiers' and sailors' children. Mrs. W. H. Booth will be asked to speak at the December meeting.

A surprise party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Catterall, Leigh Road, Langford Lake, the occasion being the first anniversary of their wedding. Games and dancing were enjoyed, supper being served at midnight. The self-invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. Pedesult, Mr. and Mrs. V. McVie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Murray, Mrs. G. Fagan, the Misses Hilda Booth, Marjorie Alkman, Thelma Brotherton, Messrs. Tom McPherson, Stanley Venables, Bill Piercy, Jack Wilkinson, Gordon Greenwood, Robert Brotherton, Jack Booth, George Brotherton.

Mrs. J. Deakin, Leigh Road, is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

There need not be any special training for educating baby to do without night feedings. The age at which night feedings are omitted largely depends on the generosity of the daytime feedings and the degree to which the baby is satisfied by them.

It may be taken for granted that a baby can just as well get all the nourishment he needs in four daytime feedings, and the fifth feeding at night can be omitted after the first three or four months.

LET HUNGER DICTATE

Feed him regularly in the daytime, then wait for him to waken at night for his feeding. Most often this will happen about 11 p.m. or midnight, and the baby will be able to wait then until 8 a.m. without difficulty. Naturally, if he wakens to be fed, he should be fed, until such time as he sleeps a thorough without waking.

There are several reasons why babies, well past the age when they need any night feedings, still continue to waken for them. One of them, of course, is Stanley Venables, may have been awakened so repeatedly at 10 and 2 for feedings that they continue to cry for feedings, though neither appetite nor nutrition demand it.

MAY BE UNDERNOURISHED

If the baby has been nursed for seven or eight months, his repeated waking at night may indicate the need for peremptory weaning. The "bottle-fed" baby, who still wants a night bottle, though old enough to drink from a cup, may not need this for nourishment but more often merely as a "soother." Bottles take the place of thumbs or pacifiers to babies who are used to putting themselves to sleep with something in the mouth.

Over and over one finds under-nourishment, prolonged nursing, or overlong use of a bottle as an instrument of feeding, clearly accountable for poor sleeping habits. The well-fed child with a feeding programme which keeps pace with his age and growth, early in the first year voluntarily abandons night feedings.

Cabinet Split On Conference

Quebec Ministers Believed to Have Threatened Revolt on B.N.A. Changes

By C. NORMAN SENIOR

Evidence multiplies that Prime Minister Bennett was faced with a real cabinet crisis the day that Hon. H. H. Stevens pulled out of his administration.

Canadian Press dispatches said that several ministers were threatening to resign. It was not indicated who they were or why they wanted to quit. But the situation was serious enough to send the Prime Minister hurrying off to see the Governor-General.

Subsequent events shed much light on the situation and make it possible to reconstruct something of the stormy scene that was enacted around the historic circular table of the old Privy Council chamber at Ottawa.

REVOLT FROM QUEBEC

These subsequent events suggest very strongly that Mr. Bennett was confronted with a revolt among the Quebec wing of his cabinet.

The Prime Minister's announcement that he will be unable to go ahead with the proposed conference of premiers to discuss amendments to the B.N.A. Act.

A speech by Hon. Alfred Durand in Toronto laying down the doctrine that the B.N.A. Act cannot be amended without the unanimous consent of all the provinces. This last is not Prime Minister Bennett's view. His opinion, as publicly declared on several occasions, was that a majority of the provinces in favor of amendments was sufficient to justify action.

NEED AMENDMENT

The question of amending the B.N.A. Act is intimately bound up with the Stevens price spreads probe. That investigation exposed abuses that the Dominion Parliament cannot remedy unless it gives amendments to the B.N.A. Act giving the Dominion certain powers that are now vested in the provinces, viz., the power to enact minimum wage and hours of work measures.

DIFFERENCES OF OPINION

Lawyers disagree as to how the B.N.A. Act should be amended. Some say Confederation was a compact or a contract among the provinces and that you cannot change the contract if any one party to it objects. Premier I. A. Taschereau of Quebec and Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, former Premier of Ontario, are stout champions of the "compact theory." Prime Minister Bennett is an avowed opponent of that theory. At the Conservative Summer School in Newmarket he said:

"I am not one who believes that unanimous consent on the part of all the provinces is necessary in order for the constitution to be amended." In flat disagreement with this dictum of the head of the government was the statement in Toronto on Tuesday, October 30, by Hon. Alfred Durand, one of Mr. Bennett's ministers from Quebec. Mr. Durand said:

"Quebec province unanimously supports the compact theory of Confederation. There are some who contend this compact theory of the unanimous consent of the provinces is an effective brake on the development of our national institutions and that a single province might be in a position to block a reform against the desires of the overwhelming majority of Canadians."

"That may be, but on the other hand, if an amendment is passed despite the opposition of the government of a province backed by public opinion, it may lead to very serious consequences and possibly to secession."

"Secession" is a strong word for a

NEW MUNICIPAL PLAN STUDIED

Method of Handling Bankrupt Municipalities May Be Changed

The Department of Municipal Affairs is now studying the possibilities of a new system of dealing with bankrupt and defaulting municipalities in B.C. Hon. A. Wells Gray, the minister, said yesterday.

Robert Baird, the deputy minister, on a trip east last summer, visited municipal departments in several of the other provinces and made a study of their methods. Out of his report, to be submitted shortly, a change in the present method of administration may be evolved.

At present there are five municipalities in the province under commission, and three others are in default on interest payments. In some of these attempts are now being made to straighten out the debt situation by refunding. Surveys prepared for the minister show that such a small proportion of the land in these areas is paying taxes that action of that sort is essential. Refunding has been on a wholesale scale, and it is estimated that in one or two of the worst ones no interest could be paid for ten years at least if the refunding schemes do not go through.

GIVES TALK ON MUSIC

"Must Not Be Ousted Out of Our Lives," Declared Harry J. Davis

Saskatchewan probably deserves the greatest praise of the four western provinces for its musical development, in spite of terrific odds, Harry J. Davis said yesterday when speaking briefly to members of the Kwanan Club at luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

That province is doggedly retaining its chair of music at its university, Mr. Davis said, realizing the value of music to its communities.

Mr. Davis said all the provinces of Canada deserve praise for their efforts along musical lines. He spoke of the music festivals, and said the adjudicators had given the greatest need of praise to Winnipeg. All cities of western Canada were doing fine work along this line. In connection with Victoria, Mr. Davis mentioned specially the Arion Club, one of the oldest male voice choirs in Canada.

Symphony orchestras require a great deal of money, he said. They always had a deficit, which must be met by generous backers.

"Music has a stabilizing effect on people of all ages," Mr. Davis said. "We should make every effort to see music is not ousted out of our lives."

Royal Allan was introduced as a new member of the club at the luncheon to-day by Rowan MacKenzie.

George Maynard received congratulations on his birthday. It was announced that the annual meeting of the club would be held next Tuesday evening at Speedie's Cafe.

CANADIANS IN HAWAII

Travel to Honolulu Growing, Says G. Davenport, Moana Seaside Manager

More Canadians are going to the Hawaiian Islands for holidays each year, states Guy Davenport, manager of the Moana-Seaside Hotel, Honolulu, who is at the Empress Hotel renewing acquaintances in Victoria.

Mr. Davenport is a well-known hotel man who for years was associated with the Canadian Pacific Railway hotel department. He was assistant manager of the Banff Springs Hotel when he was invited to go to Honolulu to become associated with the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and the Moana Hotel. That was about five years ago. Three years ago the Seaside Hotel was joined up with the Moana as the Moana-Seaside, and Mr. Davenport was appointed manager.

After a contacting tour which took him from Los Angeles to New York, Mr. Davenport figures that the winter season at Honolulu will be a record-breaking one.

"Each year more Canadians are making Honolulu their winter headquarters and we are expecting a larger influx this season," said Mr. Davenport in discussing the development of the Hawaiian tourist industry.

"Similarly, more people are travelling from Hawaii to British Columbia, a fact which is evidenced by the increased bookings by the C.P.R. liners touching at Honolulu in the Oriental service."

The Royal Hawaiian Hotel, which is the deluxe hotel of the Hawaiian group, has accommodations for 600 guests while the Moana-Seaside can accommodate a similar number.

Mr. Davenport will be in Victoria until Friday.

COPYRIGHT CASE SETTLED HERE

The copyright case which has been a matter of legal preliminaries for the last several weeks since Mrs. H. Glynna Ward, Victoria author, read in Blackwood's Magazine, Edinburgh, an article on the West Coast patrol which she recognized as her own, although it was under the name of Miss H. Clayton, has been settled without proceeding to trial, according to an announcement from the parties here to-day. The case has attracted much attention in legal circles, as it is the first in the west for some time under the Copyright Act.

Mrs. Glynna Ward's article originally appeared in a Canadian publication under her own name and was protected. Investigation of the Blackwood's publication revealed that the article had been submitted to that magazine in manuscript form by someone in Victoria under the Clayton name. It has been bought by the magazine and paid for.

Under the settlement concluded after a meeting at which the counsel for Mrs. Glynna Ward, the plagiarist of Mrs. Glynna Ward's work is admitted and she is given damages and costs.

Market Notes

The first shipment of Yakima Spanish onions arrived in Victoria yesterday.

Another carload of winter banana apples was unloaded in the city yesterday. The price for these apples remains steady. They are retailing from six to seven pounds for twenty-five cents.

Wholesalers report that Valencia oranges are disappearing fast. The first carload of the new crop of Navel oranges is expected from California on Friday.

A shipment of bananas from Central America arrived in the city yesterday on board the St. America.

Local hothouse tomatoes have dropped in price. They are now retailing from five to ten cents a pound, according to size.

A shipment of food pasc lettuce is expected on Wholesale Row shortly. This will be the first shipment of this lettuce for the year, and shipments are expected to be small for some time, as there is still some local lettuce.

Sweet potatoes are coming in every day, and higher prices are expected.

ALLEGATIONS ARE DENIED

Investigation In to Saanich Police Appointment Is Adjourned

The inquiry into the appointment of the new constable on the Saanich police force opened in the municipal hall yesterday evening when nine witnesses were called to tell of the rumors they had heard concerning the alleged "fixing" of the appointment, and the procedure taken in naming the new man. The council, without Reeve William Crouch, and with Councillor Fred Borden in the chair, sat as a court on the investigation.

E. L. Tait, municipal solicitor, conducted the tendering of the evidence, and at the conclusion of the hearing, it was adjourned until Friday evening at 8 o'clock for the summoning of two more witnesses.

Henry E. Rounding, one of the unsuccessful applicants for the position, and the complainant in the investigation, was the first witness, and said he had been informed by ex-councillor Dennis Hoare that the appointment had been made by the commissioners before the meeting was held to select the constable.

Mr. Hoare said he had heard it from a man who was not present at the inquiry. John Cudmore and Arthur Newcombe also testified to having heard the rumor. Thomas Raper denied canvassing any commissioner on behalf of one of the applicants.

Tom L. Sargeant, a ratepayer, testified he attended the commission meeting at which the appointment was made and everything had been "above board."

Reeve Crouch and Commissioners A. E. Seale and L. W. Goddard denied there had been any attempt to "fix" the appointment, and it had been made in the regular manner.

R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, gave an account of the meetings dealing with the appointment.

on account of the pro rata in California.

Wholesalers are anticipating another shipment of Smyrna figs in the near future.

The old shipment of local grown outside tomatoes is still arriving on the city market.

Eggs remain scarce, and though there has been no rise in price for some time, the price for large and pullet grades may go up any day.

A Law Every Mother Should Know and Observe

Never Give Your Child An Unknown Remedy without Asking Your Doctor First

"MOTHER, never give your child a remedy you don't know all about, without asking your doctor first." This is the only safe rule. If mothers knew what scientists and doctors know, they would never violate it.

Child specialists, family physicians and writers on health subjects, all stand together on this point.

When it comes to the important—and frequently used—"milk of magnesia," you know what the qualified advice is. Doctors, for over 50 years have said, "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia."

Milk of Magnesia... the safe remedy for your child.

For Phillips' is the result of over a half century of continuous laboratory research—is rated the finest science knows in its field.

So—always say Phillips' when you buy. And for your own peace of mind, see that your child gets what you ask for—when you are asked to accept an unknown preparation in place of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Safety for You and Yours

You can assist others by refusing to accept a substitute for the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Do this in the interest of yourself and your children.

"It's amazingly rich in Hormone-like substances"

explains DR. R.E. LEE,

"... that's why this new yeast acts quicker!"

Hundreds of patients relieved in 25 tests

Doctors throughout the medical world tested this new "XR" Yeast thoroughly. They report: "Amazing results!" "Twice as quick-acting." "Constipation—indigestion—skin troubles—run-down condition—corrected astonishingly." "Hormone-like" substances abundant in "XR" Yeast explain why it speeds digestive juices and action... acts so much faster.

DR. LEE, Director of Fleischmann Health Research, explains: "Discovered by a great medical scientist, it's an entirely new 'strain' of yeast!"

Constipation, Indigestion and related conditions corrected much sooner. (Newly added Vitamin A checks colds!)

THINK OF IT!... a new yeast so much quicker acting that it astounds doctors. If you have any questions, read these answers by Dr. Lee:

1. Why does "XR" Yeast act quicker? Because it's a stronger "strain" of fresh yeast than any known before, much more vigorous, and so... faster acting inside you! It's rich in hormone-like substances.

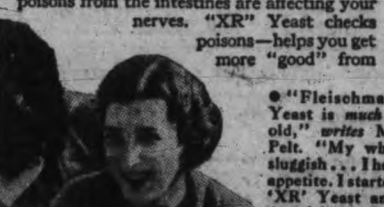

2. What are these Hormone-like Substances? They are "activators" (like natural body stimulants) which speed the flow of your digestive juices and strengthen digestive muscles from the stomach right on down.

3. Will it correct Constipation and Indigestion faster? Yes! By making juices flow fast and muscles work harder inside you, "XR" Yeast makes food softer—better digested. It "normalizes" you. Much different from harsh cathartics!

4. Do Skin troubles stop Sooner? The most common skin blemishes come from self-poisoning caused by your digestive system not working properly. "XR" Yeast corrects this condition quickly. Your blood improves, skin gains "tone." Pimples, boils, etc., should disappear in much shorter time!

5. Will it counteract a "Run-down" Condition? If you're "always tired," it may be because poisons from the intestines are affecting your nerves. "XR" Yeast checks poisons—helps you get more "good" from your food. You soon have a better appetite—more "pep." Headaches usually stop occurring, too!

People over 40 need "XR" Yeast especially, to offset their slow digestive reactions. "XR" Yeast also helps, often, in rheumatism.

6. What new Vitamin has it? "Infection-preventing" Vitamin A, newly added to help combat colds. "XR" Yeast also builds resistance to colds by cleansing your body. With Vitamins B, G and D, Fleischmann's "XR" Yeast now contains 4 vitamins!

START NOW TO EAT 2 CAKES of Fleischmann's "XR" Yeast every day—plain, or dissolved in one-third glass of water—preferably half an hour before meals.

It's a food. So keep on after you've got quick results, till you're really well! Discontinue cathartics gradually. Get a supply of Fleischmann's "XR" Yeast today!

(As good as ever for baking!) Fleischmann's XR Yeast

DRIVER CHASES RUNAWAY MOTOR

Passers-by in the vicinity of Yates and Blanshard Streets just after 10.30 o'clock yesterday evening were amazed to see a driverless car back out from the curb, travel across the street, and crash into two vehicles parked in the lot at the southwest corner of the intersection.

The car moved slowly out from the curb at the southeast corner, and as it reached the crown of the road gathered speed, causing a great deal of concern to pedestrians and motorists.

According to a police report the car had been parked in front of the theatre for a few minutes. When the driver returned he cranked it and was amazed as it started away from him. He jumped on to the running board as it started back, but a sign parked at the curb edge struck him, and knocked him off. He was able to reach the car just before the crash.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Four Bay Community Association meeting, originally scheduled for to-morrow evening, has been set back until November 16. It was announced by Percy Payne, president, to-day. The meeting will be held in the annex of Margaret Jenkins School.

Charged with entering premises at 1906 Douglas Street, with intent to commit theft, Charles Gould was remanded until Friday morning, at the request of the prosecution, when he appeared in the City Police Court this morning. Stuart Henderson is defence counsel.

Hon. George Pearson, Minister of Labor, will be the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon to-morrow at the Empress Hotel. His subject will be "The Minimum Wage Scale." He will take the place of H. H. Mahony of Seattle, who was to have been the speaker, but was taken to hospital this morning.

Rev. F. Conley will address the Men's Guild of Christ Church Cathedral in the Memorial Hall to-morrow at 8 p.m. on the subject of the proceedings of the recent General Synod held at Montreal, at which he was present as a delegate from the Diocese of Columbia.

Relief investigators from all over the province met in conference here this morning with officials of the provincial relief department. The meeting was in the nature of a general discussion of relief problems. It was explained, and did not preclude action of the government's policy toward unemployment.

The Board of Industrial Relations will meet in Vancouver to-morrow morning for a two-day session. Adam Bell, Deputy Minister of Labor and chairman of the board, announced this morning. Mr. Bell said general business will be discussed. It is understood the board is contemplating further minimum wage orders.

At the meeting of the Britannia Branch Canadian Legion last night, the action of the district council in arranging the announced Remembrance Day programme for next Sunday was endorsed. D. H. Bell and W. Pettit were initiated into the branch. D. G. Holmes was elected second vice-president to act for the balance of the year.

In co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce and as part of its safety driving campaign, Chief of Police Thomas Healey to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock will give an address over radio station CFCF on "Traffic Control in Victoria and How to Improve It and the Use of Traffic Lights." Working with an official of the chamber, the chief will answer questions put to him regarding traffic conditions in the city.

Free love, unemployment and other vital questions affecting Russia will be discussed on Monday evening in Metropolitan United Church by Rev. Dr. Willard Brewster of Vancouver. Dr. Brewster spent last summer in Russia with a number of other educators, and returned with many interesting observations to report. The lecture is being presented under the auspices of the Young People's Society and the proceeds will be used toward missions and the building of a new gymnasium for the young people's work of the church. Tickets are available at the office of Lee and Fraser, 1222 Broad Street.

Officers of the Oakland Parent-Teacher Association were elected at the annual meeting; Mrs. C. J. Cave, president; Mrs. Porter, vice-president; R. McInnes, second vice-president; Mrs. Warburton, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Arden, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Cruickshank, Mrs. J. Stephenson, Mrs. Ramsdale, A. Stevenson and C. Foxall, executive committee. After election of officers, a short programme was given by the following: Pianoforte solo, Phyllis Hicks; dance, Iris Brooks; songs, Miss Bradford; dance, Irish Jig, Miss Spence; class. The meeting was well attended and closed with the national anthem.

The Stephen Jones estate was again before the courts to-day when application was made before Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson for an allowance for the second son, Howard, under the Testator's Family Maintenance Act. Four lawyers argued the application: A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., for Howard Jones; H. G. Lawson, K.C., for the estate; Mr. J. H. Maclean, K.C., for the executors of the estate, and Mr. G. W. White for the under-age children. Affidavits were presented from the adult members of the family stating they wanted Howard to share alike with them in the estate, and an over-ride of the provisions of the will which gave Howard a small monthly allowance. Mr. Justice Robertson reserved his decision.

SMALL GIRLS HELP DRIVE

Youngsters Give Up Some-thing For Themselves to Help Charity Drive

Two little girls appeared at the Friendly Help campaign headquarters in the Winch Building the other day and offered a dollar between them to aid in the drive for $43,500, on which to successfully operate welfare societies in Greater Victoria during the coming twelve months.

Someone had given the youngsters a dollar with which to buy candy, or something for themselves. They were not the children of wealthy parents, and a dollar undoubtedly held great possibilities for them. But they had heard of the campaign and were anxious to do their bit, so that there would be no hungry or poorly clad people in Victoria this winter.

The generous act put those in the campaign rooms in mind of the quotation: "A little child shall lead them."

Slowing the campaign is mounting, and at noon to-day a total of $21,631.50 had been subscribed. During the last twenty-four hours $121 had been sent into the campaign headquarters.

The list to-day was:
Previously acknowledged $21,510.50, J. W. Bell $5, Miss Kathleen Hall $5, Mrs. Lucy A. Phassey $2, Mrs. G. Worledge $2, H. SOCIAL CREDIT IS EXPLAINED

Rev. F. W. McKinnon Stresses Cultural Heritage Aspect of Douglas Tenets

The Douglas Social Credit group held an enthusiastic meeting in the Union Building yesterday evening, when Rev. F. McKinnon discussed the third principle of the Douglas Social Credit plan, namely, a national dividend for all.

"We claim," said Mr. McKinnon, "that the first place the national dividend is almost new, and a civilized country in the world to-day it is being distributed in some form, such as old-age pensions, mothers' pensions or the dole. These are granted to the recipient not because he has done something in particular but merely because he is a member of the community and as such entitled to share in no other grounds but charity in the productive power of the community.

"Today in England they have what is known as 'The League to Abolish Poverty.' This movement has among its leaders such men as the Marquis Tavistock, Rev. Hewlett Johnson, D.D., Dean of Canterbury; Rev. Father H. B. Drinkwater, Rev. Albert D. Belden, as well as scores of other outstanding citizens of England.

"Their aim is to abolish poverty by means of a national dividend."

"The Douglas Social Credit advocates the national dividend because men have a moral and spiritual right to live and therefore a moral right to purchasing power. If science is morally right in displacing human labor," Mr. McKinnon declared, "then it is distinctly immoral that the individual so displaced being merely product of national progress, should be financially penalized."

Justifying the national dividend on moral and ethical grounds, the speaker pointed out that while economists taught that "labor and capital" were the only basis of wealth there was actually a fourth, namely, "cultural heritage," which he described as "that vast body of knowledge of the sciences, arts, organization and method handed down to us through the ages."

Creditors said that everyone was born with a right to share in the plenty that his own ancestors by their inventions made possible; that every one was an equal heir to the cultural heritage of the ages.

"Electric wiring permits at the city's office were reported to be well ahead of those for the first nine months of last year, to-day.

"BEST OF PALS"

Tarzan is a real pal for little Mary Lewis of 749 Roderick Street, Saanich. Besides being always ready for a romp he acts as a high-stepping horse occasionally and pulls Mary around in her cage like a grand lady. Tarzan has won several special prizes in dog parades and other parades.

The Victoria Daily Times invites readers to send in pictures for the "Best of Pals" contest. All clear enough to reproduce will be published. The Saanich Conservative Association, at a meeting in the Campbell Building yesterday evening, chose lashed.

Woodsworth's Inquiry Views

C.C.F. Leader, in Vancouver, Says Bennett May Quote Constitutional Bars

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., national chairman of the C.C.F., was a visitor in Vancouver to-day after a two-months' vacation tour in China and Japan.

He stated his opinion that an attempt probably would be made by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett to hide the narrowness of the current mass buying inquiry behind constitutional difficulties.

"In my opinion Mr. Bennett shows a tendency to emphasize the constitutional aspects of the matter," Woodsworth declared. "If he does this I am sure he will have the whole-hearted support of Mr. King, Liberal leader. For Mr. King is very fond of the constitution. Yes, I think there will probably be an attempt to hide the main issue behind constitutional difficulties."

"But what can they do, either of them? There is a great cry against the department stores, but I think there are means by which the federal government could act. I am doubtful if the Bennett government will take that action, and am sure Mr. King would take the same course."

Remembrance Day Golf at Uplands

Walter Gravin, professional at the Uplands Golf Club, announced to-day that entries for the Remembrance Day tournament on Sunday are coming in fast. Entries will close on Friday and golfers intending to compete are requested to give their names to John Cavan, Uplands secretary. To the winner of the tournament will go the Angus-Dillabough Trophy.

WOMAN STRUCK BY AUTO TRUCK

Struck by a truck at the intersection of Broad and Yates Streets at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Marie Franklin, 36-year-old, was sustained knee injuries. She was rushed from the scene of the accident to St. Joseph's Hospital for medical attention.

Funeral Friday Of Mrs. Wm. Brazier

Yesterday at the family residence, 14 Logan Avenue, there passed away Mrs. Wm. Brazier, aged sixty-four, a native of Cumberland, England, and a former resident of Winnipeg.

The late Mrs. Brazier leaves to mourn her loss her husband, William Brazier, as the family residence, and one son, William M. Brazier.

The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Home, from where the funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 3.15, proceeding to St. Mark's Church, where services will be held at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. O. L. Jull officiating. Interment will be in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

PAY FINAL TRIBUTE

The funeral of William Mulholland of Sidney took place yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiating in the presence of a large number of sorrowing friends. The hymns sung were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me." The casket and hearse were covered with beautiful floral tributes.

"In other words, Douglas Social Creditors said that everyone was born with a right to share in the plenty that his own ancestors by their inventions made possible; that every one was an equal heir to the cultural heritage of the ages."

HOLDS NO HOPE FOR EXPLORER

Col. P. H. Fawcett, Missing in Brazilian Wilds, School- mate of F. A. Bewes

The belief that Col. P. H. Fawcett, the British explorer, who was lost with his son in the jungle fastnesses of Brazil, may still be alive and held by the wild tribes there, is not entertained by F. A. Bewes, British yachtsman of Penzance, Eng., who is leaving Victoria this evening aboard the motor liner Aerangi for the Fiji Islands.

Mr. Bewes was a school chum of Col. Fawcett and attended the New-Abbott College in Devon with the explorer, who has disappeared without leaving the slightest trace.

Mr. Bewes, who is at the Strathcona Hotel, understands another expedition is being organized in an effort to trace Col. Fawcett, but he does not think it will be successful. The territory in which the British exploration party was lost is known by Mr. Bewes, who has flown over the headwaters of the Amazon River, via the Andes, to Peru.

The plans of Mr. Bewes on his present tour are indefinite. He will disembark from the Aerangi at Suva, and will spend some months roaming about the South Seas, visiting Tahiti, which he terms one of the most beautiful islands anywhere in the world. He will make his way back to England via Suva.

GEOLOGIST ON VISIT TO CITY

Dr. David Flood of Nelson Sees Officials at Parlia- ment Buildings

Dr. David Flood of Nelson was a visitor in Victoria to-day. The well-known geologist, who recently discovered gold in the Rover Creek region, west of Nelson, called at the Parliament Buildings, where he had an engagement with one of the departments.

Prairie Dope Dealers Hunted

Police Make No Statement on Ramifications of Late P. Brecher's Activities

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Nov. 7.—Belief that the international narcotic drug ring of P. Brecher, Montreal millionaire who committed suicide recently, extended its ramifications across the prairies, is held by observers here, who point out that a clean-up now in progress is being conducted by the same officials who secured the conviction of Brecher on narcotic charges.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police are maintaining their traditional silence. They refuse to discuss the cases of fifteen Albertans recently arrested in connection with narcotic charges and decline to state whether the Montreal case had anything to do with those now under investigation.

Dope rings in Saskatchewan and Vancouver recently have been investigated and broken by R.C.M.P. Investigations have been conducted by Detective-Sergeant L. J. Black, who directed the investigation leading to the arrest and conviction of Brecher.

Oil Boom In Saskatchewan

Strike Near Hudson Bay Junction Brings Many Staking Claims

Regina, Nov. 7.—Saskatchewan to-day was starting into the throes of an oil boom.

That that country surrounding Hudson Bay Junction was the result of a strike of what is declared to be heavy crude oil in the Trail Blazer well, four miles southeast of the town.

What was first reported as tar sands were first struck at 500 feet. The drill went down twenty feet deeper and the heavy crude rose 100 feet in the well. Drilling was then suspended. The substance resembles black axle grease and is practically free from sand.

Samples are being sent to Ottawa and the University of Saskatchewan for analysis. An amateur analysis places the gasoline content at 10 per cent. W. A. Fry, now living in Edmonton, W. A., is the geologist who discovered the field and located the site of the well.

Famous Political Figures Disappear

Associated Press

Duke Of Kent Sits With Lords

Ceremony Marks Entrance of King's Son Into House of Peers in London

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Nov. 7.—Centuries rolled back as the Duke of Kent, youngest son of the King and Queen, was presented in the House of Lords this afternoon.

Members of the work-a-day House of Commons left their precincts to crowd their gallery in the House of Peers. A glowing splash of color moved slowly up the central aisle to the clerk's table.

The clerk read the letters patent creating Prince George the Earl of St. Andrews and Duke of Kent. Then the writ of summons by parliament: "We strictly enjoin and command you," so it ran, "to be faithful to the allegiance by which you are bound to us."

The Duke of Kent took the oath declaring "by God Almighty that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to His Majesty King George, his heirs and successors according to law. So help me God."

The Prince of Wales seemed to be suffering from a slight cold. The ceremony was the induction of the King's youngest son to the House of Lords. He is to marry Princess Marina of Greece November 28.

TALK OF the six-year-old Twenty Grand returning to the races for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in Los Angeles in February sounds like a California publicity blurb. Twenty Grand! What a name! It came from the price paid for him as a yearling. But it might just as well have come naturally. His dam was Bonus, by Imported All Gold, and he chased the pot of gold to the extent of $250,000. His nine-year-old son, another Twenty Grand, came back! Why, he's a fat, old country gentleman down there on the Greenlee Farm at Lexington. Another try by him would be comparable to Jack Dempsey lashing himself into battle at thirty-nine. You know what that would mean—seven against a cub. Athlete and horse are much alike. Legs go first—kerplunk. They can't swap enthusiasm and knowledge for underpinning. If that were possible, Jim Corbett would have boxed Max Baer's ears the day Jim died. Twenty Grand is a tremendous horse. As a three-year-old, his pitiless experience in tugging his weight at the speed at which this master showman of the tracks traveled. Twenty Grand broke down late that fall, and bogged down again the following season.

Twenty Grand should not have been defeated after his two-year-old preliminaries. Accidents and a poor condition caused that. Twenty Grand was trimmed twice as a three-year-old by Mate, once in the Prentiss, when an exceptionally bad ride, plus bumping, kept him back. And again, in the Arlington Stakes, when he was in such unsatisfactory shape that he should not have been started. Twenty Grand was a pathetic animal that fall, and bogged down again the following season.

There have been numerous reports of the nine-year-old Sun Beau, richest money winner in the history of the turf, with $376,744 to his credit, facing the barrier once more. Although Sun Beau has been older than Twenty Grand, his challenging the opposition this late in life would be less of an impossibility because the Willie Shanks horse has been as sound as a dollar, and, moreover, is a lightly constructed, thoroughbred. Sun Beau did not exhibit the ordinary decline of age until very late in his galloping career. He has been kept close to running form. But the odds against such oldsters as Sun Beau and Twenty Grand whipping the upstarts, Cavalcade and Discovery, and the stumpy Equipoise, cracked hoof or no, and others of their kind are prohibitive, even when the odds are whipped into racing condition. Sun Beau and Twenty Grand are old pappy guys now. Their owners and trainers should be glad to place them in embarrassing positions.

Dictionary compiler in the United States are pulling their greying locks at the prospect of a new edition containing the various terms which have been coined on the gridiron. Following are a few:

"Get rugged" — to play dirty.
"Bustle" — southern slang for newcomer.
"Logan" — lineman with size eighteen shoes.
"Gravy boat" — a place where meals are free.
"Gravy train" — scholarship list.
"Take a yell" — to fake injury until the crowd gives you nine runs.
"Play-batty" — disease causing coach to draw diagrams on the tablecloth.
And those are just a few!

What is said to be the only fish hospital of its kind in the world is operated by James Palmer, of the Walker House Aquarium in Toronto. Sick fish from all over the world and the United States are brought here suffering from ailments ranging from consumption to eye trouble. Operations and X-rays of many types are performed on the patients, and competent fish doctors carefully watch the diet of the sick, and feed them on dried fish, calves' liver, whole-wheat bread, beef codfish and eggs. The poor fish!

Name Grid Officials

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—Angie Mitchell, Regina, and Del Finlay and "Moore" Parker of Vancouver, have been named officials in charge of the game western Canada football final series between Regina Roughriders and Vancouver Maroons, starting here next Saturday. Sam Crockett, president of the Western Canada Rugby Football Union, made the announcement yesterday evening. Mitchell will act as umpire, with Finlay, referee. Parker will be head linesman.

Frankie Genovese Decisions Dempsey

Toronto, Nov. 7.—Frankie Genovese, Toronto's 142-pound scrapper, yesterday evening won a decision from Eddie Dempsey, Syracuse, in the feature bout of a Maple Leaf Gardens boxing card. Dempsey gave away six pounds to the Toronto fighter and staged a great battle for the ten rounds.

Chicago Hawks To Oppose St. Louis; Boston At Toronto

Magnates Expect New Faces, New City and New Rule to Make Good Year

Heavy Schedule For Next Week

If new faces, a new city and a new rule can do it the National Hockey League season that opens to-morrow night in St. Louis and Toronto should be as successful as any in the seventeen winters hockey's major league has operated.

Most teams have been strengthened, and Ottawa Senators, transplanted from financially unproductive territory to St. Louis, in the magnates' efforts to build up contenders for the world title and attract large gate receipts.

Youngsters have been graduated from amateur ranks, fusing dash with experience, veterans have been moved to new pastures to revive dimming greatness and a new rule, the penalty shot, introduced. Owners who have worried about the matter since last April, hope will produce a closer race and draw larger crowds than ever.

Beckoning St. Louis to the arena, where an American Association team whetted appetites for better hockey, league officials sent Chicago Black Hawks, world champions, to the Missouri city for the season inaugurating at Toronto, where Conn Smythe has patched his Maple Leafs with amateur talent, Boston Bruins, flops last season, out eager for regained greatness under Frank Patrick, will open the long schedule in Canada.

GAMES SCHEDULE
In games over the next week other clubs in the nine-team circuit will get their first taste of the brand of competition the 1934-35 season will produce. Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers break in Saturday night. Canadiens at Toronto and Rangers at St. Louis. Detroit Red Wings play their first game Sunday. Montreal Maroons Tuesday and New York Americans next Thursday.

Black Hawks will open in St. Louis with a team a lot different from the one that won the championship last April from Detroit. Charlie Gardiner, finest goaltender in hockey, died in Winnipeg during the off-season. Lionel Conacher, defence stalwart, was traded to Montreal. Hawk manager, resigned, and later joined the Maroons.

Their one great asset they were without last year is Howie Moren, Canadiens' centre star, who was traded to Hawks after playing all his previous professional hockey with the Habits.

Under Eddie Gerard, successor to George Boucher, the Ottawa team, named St. Louis Eagles, have new hopes in their new surroundings and the feeling the amateur stars they brought to pro hockey last season will carve a new name on the Stanley Cup.

SHORE SHOWS WELL
Under Frank Patrick, who resigned as managing director of the league to pilot the Bruins, Boston aims at avoiding last year's errors and reviving the team's fortunes. Their number one drawing card, Eddie Shore, has been showing his old-time form in practice and Patrick is basing most of his hopes on the big blonde defenceman.

Leafs will open in Toronto without Charlie Conacher and Joe Primeau, two members of their star forward line. Conacher and Smythe have been unable to come to a contract agreement and the big right winger has been suspended. Primeau's right thumb was broken in a charity game last season. Smythe will officially unveil his new "kid line," a trio of amateurs he plucked from St. Michael's College Juniors, Canadian amateur champions last season. They impressed a crowd of more than 14,000 Monday in their first showing at home, and Smythe has definitely decided to carry the three—Pep Kelly, Al Metts and Art Jackson—through the season.

Arnott Plays For Vancouver Lions

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—Jimmy Arnott, reported as signed with Windsor Bulldogs in the International Hockey League, will play this season with Vancouver Lions of the Northwest Hockey League, or not at all, Guy Patrick, owner and manager of the Lions, declared yesterday.

Arnott performed on the Lions' defence last season. Patrick declared he is registered with the Northwest League, and is on record with the National Hockey League as a Vancouver player.

DETROIT ICE TEAM CHOSEN

Jack Adams Announces 15 Men For N.H.L. Club; Normie Smith in Goal

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—Fifteen players will be in uniform for Detroit Red Wings when they start the National Hockey League race here in a game with Boston Bruins Sunday night.

Manager Jack Adams in announcing his selections yesterday said Normie Smith, who came here from Montreal Maroons, will guard the nets and will have Captain Eddie Goggin, Doug Young, Teddy Graham and Walter Buswell to protect him on the defence.

The three forward lines will consist of Cooney Weiland, Herbie Lewis and Larry Aulie for a starting division with relief work being done by Gordon Pettigrew, Johnny Sorrell and Yank Boyd in one case and by Moose Mahoney, Lorne Duguid and George Patterson in another.

FOUR RIGHT WINGERS
The fifteenth member of the line-up will be Eddie Wiseman, a right winger, and the Detroit manager has indicated it is possible he will carry four right-wingers throughout the schedule.

The job of guarding goal for Olympics in their International League opener here to-morrow with Windsor led by John Ross Roach and Jack Thompsons or Walter Broda, with the veteran Roach being the popular choice.

In addition to coach Garry Lederman, Olympics will use Yip Porter and Ronnie Moffatt on the rear-guard. Nooney Shultz, Wally Kilrea and Wilf Starr will share centre ice duties. Lloyd Gross, Tommy King and Orville Oulston will patrol left wing and Gordon Walker and Modere Bruneteau will play right wing.

DEANS MEET SAM BREADON

Pitching Stars in Session With President of St. Louis; Not Signed Yet

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—Their pitching highnesses, Dixie and Daffy, chatted with President Sam Breadon of the world champion Cardinals again yesterday, but negotiations regarding their 1935 contracts were put off until January.

"We just talked about other business and didn't get around to contracts," explained Dixie for the dazzling pitching team of Dean and Dean.

"Contracts for the Deans will be forwarded to them by mail in January, along with the contracts to other players, which is our usual custom," said Breadon.

Three Clubs After Windsor Defencemen

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 7.—The "weath" of defence talent on the Windsor Bulldogs' roster has attracted the attention of other clubs in the International Hockey League and several offers have been made for players like Rocky Rockburn, Harold Starr and Louis Swenson.

London, Syracuse and Detroit have all put in a bid for the rugged Rockburn. Eddie Powers of the Stars offered Al Huggins and Earl Miller in exchange for him, in addition to $200 in cash.

Hap Holmes of Cleveland would like Starr, but his chances of getting him appear remote.

Margaret Jenkins Defeats Boys' Central 2 to 0 For South Section Honors

Defeating Boys' Central 2 to 0 in a fine game at Heywood Avenue grounds yesterday, Margaret Jenkins soccer eleven won the south section school championship and the right to meet Oaklands, winner of the north section, at the Athletic Park to-morrow in the final for the cup.

Three other matches played between Central and Jenkins had ended in ties, but Jenkins broke the deadlock in the fourth game yesterday. In the first half the scoring was opened by Dunaway, who, receiving the ball on the right wing, made a brilliant shot from a hard angle and placed the ball between the bars for Jenkins' first tally.

Central opened the second half with a fine rush down the centre to Jenkins goal, but it only resulted in a goal kick. Fuller also missed a penalty shot for Central.

SECOND GOAL
Stubbs, who received a well placed pass from King, neatly dribbled through for Jenkins' second goal.

In the last few minutes of the game Central made a vigorous attempt to score and hammered at Jenkins' goal, but it only resulted in a good display in goal for Jenkins. Kept them from scoring.

The teams follow:
Margaret Jenkins — Glen Stubbs, Keith Ludbrook, Bill Dunaway, Don King, Dave Anstey, Alec Merriman, Les Moon, Jack Inglis, Ron Bennister, Geoff Twelves and Bruce Greene.

Meralomas Strong For Western Final

Vancouver Squad Will Be at Peak For Championship Grid Struggle Against Regina Rough Riders on Mainland Saturday; Pack Plenty Weight

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—For a few moments next Saturday football will be forgotten and the years will roll back while two of western Canada's outstanding grid coaches clasp hands and renew a college friendship started on the football field.

Dr. "Hammy" Boucher of Vancouver's Meralomas and Gordon "Greg" Grassick of Regina Rough Riders, mentors of the western football finals, were benchmen on McGill's grid machine eight years ago.

Four years ago they met for the first time since leaving college. Grassick was then star halfback for the Rough Riders when they came west to defeat Meralomas in the interprovincial playoffs. On Saturday they will be opposing generals as they strive to send their respective squads into the Dominion classic.

The youthful Boucher, who took over the Meralomas four years ago and sent them to three consecutive British Columbia titles, has no predictions to make on the two-game series.

"Rough Riders are good and have always been good; one of the best," he remarked. "We are going to try and make this series as interesting as possible."

COAST LINE-UP
Between telephone calls for medical advice from patients, and reminders that he had an anaesthetic to give and a football practice later, "Hammy" stretched the line power and backfield strength which he will pit against the crack prairie brigade.

The orange and black line, averaging 177 pounds, is built around Wally Hammond, veteran snap. Although weighing only 150 pounds, Hammond is well versed in the intricate plays the "Lomas" feature, and his dynamic personality has pulled more than one game out of the losing column for them. His understudy is Louie Moran, who made his first appearance as a regular after five years in the University of Alberta series last week.

Hammond is flanked by four husky middles, who will alternate at that position, Harry Oakenfull, Bill Barvin, Bill Lawrence and Bill Barker.

Lawrence, at 220, is the heaviest man on the team, and a good line plunger.

Garvin, at 200, and Barker, at 185, both former England players, in an orange and black uniform. Tipping the scales at 188, he will alternate with inside with 165-pound Bert Fairall, and two linemen in their first year of senior company, Charlie Tobus, nineteen, and weighing 175, and Bill Bassett, twenty-one, and weighing 170 pounds.

All four are first-class defensive players. In addition, Bassett is a good charging man and adept at breaking up opposing plays.

Two brothers, Al and Ron Lowe, will hold down the outside wing berths. Both are formerly from Calgary, where they learned the game as juniors. With seven years in four years old and weigh around 145.

Last, but not least, on the line, is Jim Stewart, another former Calgary player, who will guide the coast plays at quarterback. A nice tackler and go-go field-general, Stewart has been drilled for five years in Meralomas strategy.

Boston, Nov. 7.—Georgia Coleman, Olympic women's diving champion, had started on the road to recovery yesterday after a delicate operation Monday night on her pituitary gland underneath the brain.

Her surgeon, Dr. Gilbert Horrax of the Lahey Clinic, said she was "doing well."

Mrs. Roy Gillison, the former Miss Coleman, who was wed secretly to a Jackson, Mich., salesman in Port Lauderdale, Fla., in March, 1933, kept the operation secret as her marriage. Not until yesterday did it become known she had been confined to a New England Baptist hospital bed since Friday to rest for the dangerous operation which took nearly three hours to perform.

Dr. Horrax denied that the gland disorder, caused by pressure on the gland, was a direct cause of a diving injury, but did say such a cause "was conceivable."

How to Make a Hit With the Women

Dorothy Dix

Let's Don't In Dealing With Girls

A YOUNG woman has compiled the following list of don'ts for boys who wish to be popular with girls. Don't be sloppy. Don't think you look collegiate, or intellectual, or independent. Be the original when you go about with your socks falling over your shoes, and a frayed, faded-out old sweater, and trousers that bag at the knees, and crying out for a shave and a haircut, and as if you generally needed to be sent to the laundry and the pressing shop. You just look lazy and dirty and are a pain to any girl's eyes, and she is ashamed to be seen out with you.

Girls are clothes-conscious for men as well as for themselves, and the Fairy Prince they are looking for is not a human being. He is a snappy dresser with some class to him that she is proud to flaunt before the other girls.

Don't think that being a man entitles you to the privilege of being a bore. A lot of boys do. They think that good manners are excess baggage with which they do not need to burden themselves. They scorn the niceties of life. They eat like pigs. They let a girl shift for herself when they take her out. They sit while she stands. When they take her out riding, they honk their horns in front of her house until she comes running and climbs in by herself.

Don't adopt these roughneck tactics. No girl-likes them, nor does she put up with them unless she is desperate for attentions from men. If your mother neglected your table manners, repair them by observation. Many a man has lost out by a fork. If you do not know how to order a dinner, get some headwaiter to teach you. Study the etiquette authority as if she were the Bible. The boy who makes a bit with girls is not the bumpkin, but the suave, polished man of the world who knows what to do and how to do it.

Don't be a Dumb Dan. When you are with a girl don't sit on the back of your neck and expect her to work like a coal heater to entertain you. Pull your weight in the boat. Introduce a few interesting topics of conversation. It takes more of a repertoire than the average girl possesses to keep the talk going with a boy who never chips in with anything but an occasional "yash" or a grunt.

Learn how to dance so that you will not cripple your partner for life. Learn how to play a decent game of cards. Learn how to do all the things that the other young people are doing so that you will fit into any party and carry your welcome with you wherever you go.

Don't act as if you considered yourself the answer to a maiden's prayer, and that every time you noticed a girl she should get down on her knees and thank heaven for the blessing that has been bestowed upon her. Don't act like a Sultan throwing the handkerchief to a slave every time you condescend to take a girl out. Don't expect a girl to be grateful every time you cut in on her at a dance.

There is nothing that girls resent so bitterly as they do having men condescend to them. It raises every bit of sporting blood in 'em, and they would say "no" every time if there was another man in sight.

Don't be a cheap sport. Don't make a girl pay with $5 worth of self-respect for a 50-cent movie ticket. Don't think that because you have taken a girl to some place of amusement it gives you the privilege of pawing her and kissing her.

Be a gentleman. That goes big with girls, because it is such a novelty.

Don't talk about yourself all the time. That may be the one and only topic of interest to you, but there is a chance that a girl may not sit entranced for hours at a stretch while you tell her how great and wonderful you are, and what a devil among the ladies, and all about your college adventures, or your job, or your automobile, or what you said to so-and-so and so-and-so said to you.

It is only our mothers who want to hear all the details of our lives. Besides, what the girl wants to hear is a song about herself.

Don't try out the same line on every girl. Vary your technique. Don't tell every girl that the instant you set eyes on her you knew you had met the one for whom you had been searching. Don't ask every girl where she has been all your life that you have never met her before, or ask her where she got her eyes, or tell her how unlike she is to every other woman in the world.

She has heard that a hundred times before.

Don't be a doormat for girls. And especially don't let any one girl trample over you, if you want her. That is not the way to make a hit, for no girl ever respects the man she can walk over. The harder a boy is to catch, the more a girl wants him. The boy who lets girls make dates with him and break them when some other boy comes along, or who takes girls to parties for other boys to dance with, never gets anywhere.

Don't be a tightwad. Neither be an easy prospect that even an amateur gold-digger can work. When you take a girl out, don't count the pennies. Give her as good a time as you can afford, but don't let the cheerful workers run in two or three birthdays a year on you, or make you buy them wrist watches, or open champagne for them when you have only the price of beer. The popularity that you have to buy is not worth having.

Don't be a professional love-maker. Some girl will call your bluff and marry you.

Uncle Wiggily And Happy's House

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time there were two little rabbits. One was named Happy and the other was named Wiggily. They were Uncle Wiggily's little rabbits and lived with him in the hollow stump bungalow.

Happy was given that name because he was so jolly and happy, smiling and laughing no matter what happened. Wiggily got his name because he was always hopping and hopping. Happy was older than Wiggily, but neither little bunny boy was very old, they did not yet go to the Hollow Tree School even in the kindergarten class.

One day when all the other little bunny boys and girls had hopped to school Happy and Wiggily were left at home in the bungalow to play. It was just as Uncle Wiggily did not go to look for an adventure.

"Instead of going adventuring," said Uncle Wiggily to his wife, "I shall watch Happy and Wiggily play around the bungalow. Do our little rabbits play nicely together, Mrs. Longears?"

"Happy bothers Happy," said their mother. "But Wiggily is so young and little that often he bothers Happy when Happy is making a play house of blocks or something like that."

"What does Happy do to Happy?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh," said Mrs. Longears, "often when Happy has built a nice house of blocks and laughing no matter what happened. Wiggily got his name because he was always hopping and hopping. Happy was older than Wiggily, but neither little bunny boy was very old, they did not yet go to the Hollow Tree School even in the kindergarten class.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1934

Astrologers read this as an unimportant day in planetary government. The stars encourage financial transactions, but agents may be more wise than lay investors and should be employed while the configuration prevails.

The planetary government favors newspapers and their owners. New affiliations among publishers may encourage strong chains. Despite the popularity of the radio as a new medium there will be an increase in newspaper subscribers and advertisers. It is prophesied. Changes in policies as well as in the physical aspects of many journals are indicated.

This should be a lucky day for both merchants and manufacturers, for extraordinary conditions are indicated in the trade. Generous spending is forecast for the next few weeks.

New developments affecting oil and coal industries are forecast. Speculation is to send much money to British possessions, if the stars are wisely interpreted.

Women now will be interested in old-time handicrafts. It is predicted. Sewing, weaving and knitting again will be fashionable as the winter advances. New modes will come into vogue. Riches in attire are to attain even greater popularity than formerly and to become more costly.

Original and different cultures are to be introduced for women who are interested in leading the style. It is prophesied, and in these modes those who drive in the occult foresee strange omens.

Persons whose birthdate is 18 is have the augury of a year of real prosperity. They may expect favors from employers.

Children born on this day probably will be fortunate in material things. The subjects of this sign usually possess extensive ability and foresight.

Edmund Halley, astronomer, was born on this day, 1686. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Jean Paul Pierre Camille-Forey, President of France, 1847, and Thomas Manning, English traveler, 1772.

Well, this is the last one! said Happy. So he built up another block house and

New Zealand Trade Growing

New Zealand Trade Commission to Canada Tells of Better Business

Reciprocal trade between Canada and New Zealand showed gratifying improvement last year, according to J. W. Collins, New Zealand trade commissioner to Canada, who is a visitor to Victoria this afternoon aboard the Aorangi on his way to Auckland on furlough.

Canada's exports to the southern Dominion during the last fiscal year were valued at $4,480,000 as against $3,608,000 the previous year, Mr. Collins said, while New Zealand's sales to Canada in the same period improved from approximately $1,000,000 to $2,573,158.
Wool and hides accounted for a large part of the increase in the northbound shipments, the commissioner stated, the figures being $1,028,000 for wool in the last fiscal year, as against $800,000 three years ago and $191,000 against $38,000 for hides in the same period.
Government assistance for building has proved very successful in New Zealand, Mr. Collins stated. From 33 to 50 per cent of labor costs were contributed by the government, the higher proportion being paid on small homes averaging $2,500 in cost. Hours of work were limited to forty a week, he said, to spread the labor as much as possible. The money so spent was obtained through a special levy on wages of those in every kind of employment, he stated, the rate being a shilling on every pound.

New Ship For Union Company

Fast Steamship to Be Built For Sydney-Auckland Route

To cope with competition by the new Nelson Lines Monterey, Mariposa and Lurline in the service between New Zealand and Australia, the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand is building a speedy 12,000-ton passenger steamer to ply at express speed between Sydney and Auckland, according to Charles A. Kilkelly, world traveler, who is registered at the Empress Hotel from Oxford, Eng.

Mr. Kilkelly, who is traveling to get the empire viewpoint, recently spent some time in New Zealand, looking into the agricultural and sheep raising industry.

SCHEDULE TO BE CUT

The decision to build a fast ship to ply between Australia and New Zealand has been forced upon the Union Steamship Company by the keen competition of the heavily subsidized American boats operating out of San Francisco to the South Seas. The new ship, it is reported, will be built in the United Kingdom, and will be of such speed that the time between Sydney and Auckland will be cut by a full day.

Complaint is made by the New Zealand ship operators that the subsidized American ships are permitted to carry passengers between Auckland and Sydney, whereas the Union Steamship Company's boats in the Australasian-California service are not allowed to carry passengers between Honolulu and San Francisco. The new steamer, with its great speed, is expected to regain for the Union Company the business lost to the American ships on the New Zealand-Australian route.

Mr. Kilkelly has visited most countries under the British flag with the exception of South Africa and Kenya Territory. He was in India where his father was in the British medical service. He believes that India, by education of the people, will make good under the system of self-government, and in this he radically differs from his father, who contends the country is being given over to the racial element.

Australia is booming and conditions are improving in New Zealand, Mr. Kilkelly says. The south island is better off than the north island, because of the traditional thriftiness of the Scotch element there.

Mr. Kilkelly was born in Dublin, but he has his bank balance there. A student of agriculture, he maintains that it is more profitable to farm in the United Kingdom than in Australia or Australasia. Under the derating scheme, which has been in effect since 1933, there has been no taxation on the farm lands in England and California. Later, when the taxation on farm buildings is not excessive.

Mr. Kilkelly is interested in politics at home and says he may yet be persuaded to run for parliament. From here he will go to Vancouver, and will then travel with his parents to California, later crossing the States en route to the British West Indies.

WILL STUDY CUSTOMS LAWS

Shanghai Official Sent to Canada By Chinese Government to Look Into Rules

To study customs enforcement in Canada, K. K. Chen, assistant to the Commissioner of Customs at Shanghai, reached Victoria this morning aboard the liner Empress of Canada. He was sent to this country by the Chinese government and will spend some time here, visiting all parts of the Dominion.
Mr. Chen will go to Ottawa to consult with head officers of the Canadian Department of Customs. For fifteen years he has been connected with the Chinese Maritime Customs, dividing his time between Shanghai and Peking.
This year the Peking government sent four customs officials abroad to study ways and means of checking smuggling. Mr. Chen reported. Other officials have gone to Japan, Australia and Italy, he said, but this is the first time a Chinese official has come to study such conditions in Canada.
Up to 1929 the average customs charge was only 5 per cent, but since that year, when customs autonomy was granted, the Chinese government revenues have increased tremendously and the nation as a whole is becoming more centralized.
Manchukuo, he said, while not recognized by the Peking government as an independent nation, nevertheless is a foreign country so far as customs were concerned, and the same tariffs applied as to other lands.

Longshoremen In Dock Riot

Los Angeles, Nov. 7. — Three men were seriously injured and seventeen others driven to cover in an attack by five longshoremen on dock workers in the outer harbor, police reports disclosed yesterday.
A riot call sent a squad of fifteen policemen hurrying to the scene, where the longshoremen were unloading the British freighter Rabbe Castle. The five attackers were arrested and taken to the San Pedro police station. Officers said dissatisfaction at union men working with non-union men caused the attack.
